JOHNSON SAYS HE'LL NEVER COME BACK

Negro Pugilist Arrived at Havre,
France, Today and Announced
That He Will Stay There

HAVRE, July 10.—Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist, arrived here today on board the Corinthian and immediately on landing announced his determination never to return to the United States. He said he would in the future take up his residence in Paris.

OFFICIALS CONSIDER STEPS TO BRING ABOUT FORFEITURE OF JOHNSON'S BAIL

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Jack Johnson's announcement that he would never return to the United States caused department of justice officials immediately to consider steps to bring about the forfeiture of his $30,000 personal bond pending in Chicago for his appearance in connection with "white slave" indictments upon which he has not yet been tried. Judge Carpenter a few days ago declined to declare the bond forfeited until it was clear that Johnson would not appear when wanted. The department of justice, it is said, probably will seek official confirmation of his announced purpose not to return and present the matter again to Judge Carpenter. Government attorneys expressed no regret over the announcement. A few days ago they considered the advisability of asking France to deport him upon arrival, but it was decided to let the case take its usual course. Their view was that there could not be objection to his absence from the country and if he should ever return the year imprisonment sentence would always be enforceable provided the circuit court of appeals approves the verdict.

ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL

Four Arraigned in Court Today—
Woman Who Plunged Hatpin
Into Side Sent to Jail

The four Syrians, charged with assault with intent to kill, were in court this morning but their cases were again continued. Mohamed Gemal, Allie Cicary, Allie Mohamed and Allie Mahmond all pleaded guilty through their attorneys, but the lawyers in the case could not agree upon an interpreter. The case was continued until July 15th. The boy who was stabbed and came so near dying was in court this morning in a very weak condition and had to be assisted from the court room by an officer.

Allie Kallil, charged with assault and battery upon Michael Corey, pleaded not guilty to the complaint. This case was a long drawn out affair and a dozen witnesses were called before the morning session of police court was adjourned by Judge Fisher, who presided today. The prosecution claims that the defendant inflicted the several scalp wounds which the complainant showed to the court this morning while the defendant vigorously denied ever striking the boy. In fact Kallil stated that the complainant had assaulted him and that he had not lifted his hand in self defence. Corey's scalp wounds were made by a club. The case was continued until 2:15 p. m.

Plunged Hatpin Into Side
Mary E. Smith was in a great temper last night when arrested for drunkenness and threatened to do dire things to the officer. As a last resort she pulled a huge hatpin from her head gear, shouting that she was going to commit suicide, and plunged it into her side. Her self inflicted wound required the assistance of Dr. Tighe as soon as she reached the station. The court considered that a person of this character was not a fit sort to have walking our streets and ordered her to be committed to jail for a term of four months.

Michael Murtagh was charged with drunkenness and it was plain to be seen that he had been upon a prolonged spree. His hands and head shook so badly that his hat dropped from his hands and he was barely able to control his facial muscles sufficiently to articulate. At that it was with great difficulty that his utterances could be converted into intelligible language by Judge Fisher. "What's the matter with you?" inquired Supt. Welch. "N-nothing, s-sir," replied Michael. "I always shake this way." "You know better than that," admonished the chief and the defendant meekly acquiesced and subsided. He was sent to jail for a month in order to allow the liquor he has been consuming recently to get out of his system.

Alleged Mill Thief
Major Noyes had another alleged mill thief in court this morning. Joseph Papalac pleaded not guilty to the charge of larceny from the Tremont & Suffolk mills. His case was continued until the 15th.

Charged With Drunkenness
The case of Edward J. Halloran, accused of larceny of a watch and money from James F. Carr, was continued at the request of the police until a week from today. John Roddy, a farmer from Carlisle, was fined $6 for drunkenness and given three weeks within which to pay it. There was only one $2 drunk, but the probation officer released six first offenders.

STAMFORD WRECK REPORT

Scathing Arraignment of Officials for Placing Inexperienced Engineer in Charge of Express Train

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Engineer Doherty's inexperience in handling high speed passenger trains was the principal cause of the New York, New Haven & Hartford wreck at Stamford, Conn., on June 12th, in which six passengers were killed and 20 injured. The inter-state commerce commission's report of its investigation of the accident made public today, so holds and adds that the responsibility for placing an "inexperienced and uninstructed" engineman in charge of a high speed passenger train rests with the operating officers of the railroad.

The engine brakes, tests seem to indicate, were good; the train brakes not as efficient as safety demanded in such a fast train but the home and distant signals at Stamford were held to be too close together. Doherty's inexperience and lack of instruction, the commission holds, were responsible for his failure to apply the brakes in time to stop the train before the danger signal set against him.

BULGARIA TAKES INITIATIVE TO BRING ABOUT END OF THE BALKAN WAR

TYPE OF BULGARIAN
INFANTRY

SERBIAN INFANTRY IN BIG TRENCHES

LONDON, July 10.—It is officially confirmed here that Bulgaria has taken the initiative of asking the European powers to try to bring the Balkan war to an end.

SERBIAN CAVALRY DROVE BULGARIANS OUT OF TOWN OF ISTIP

BELGRADE, Serbia, July 10.—The Bulgarian troops continue to retire, closely pursued by the Serbians, according to official reports received here. The Bulgarians, retreating from Istip, had intended occupying Radovitch, an important town some miles to the east, but the Serbian cavalry drove them out of this strategic position. The Bulgarians fled precipitately, leaving their dead and wounded on the field and throwing away rifles, ammunition and foodstuffs as they went.

BULGARIA PLACES HERSELF IN HANDS OF RUSSIA TO BRING CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES

ST. PETERSBURG, July 10.—Bulgaria has placed herself unreservedly in the hands of Russia with the view of bringing about a cessation of hostilities in the Balkans and in order to prevent further bloodshed, according to the announcement made here today apparently on good authority.

GREEK NAVAL FORCE OCCUPIES KAVALA ON THE AEGEAN SEA

ATHENS, July 10.—A Greek naval force today occupied Kavala on the Aegean sea hitherto in the hands of the Bulgarians. The valley of Strumitsa also has been taken by Greek troops.

KEEP BOYS UNDER 16 OUT OF POOL ROOMS

Very Sweeping Child Labor Law
Recently Passed by Massachusetts Legislature

One of the most sweeping child labor laws ever passed by the Massachusetts legislature is contained in an act regulating the labor of minors, a copy of which has been received by the city clerk. The act, as amended, was approved about three weeks ago and it will be of special interest to owners and managers of bowling alleys, pool and billiard rooms, inasmuch as it states that no minor under 16 years of age shall be employed there. The act in its introduction mentions the various employments which cannot be engaged in by minors under 14 years of age. These are: factory, workshop, manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishments, barber shops, bootblack stands or establishments, public stable, garage, brick or lumber yard, telephone exchange, telegraph or messenger office or in the construction or repair of buildings, or in any contract or wage earning industry, carried on in tenement or other houses. No minor under 14 years of age shall be employed in any of these employments which can-

INSPECTS LAWRENCE BATHHOUSE

Judge Mahoney Makes Personal
Investigation After Inquest and Will Report Later

LAWRENCE, July 10.—Following the conclusion of the inquest this morning on the municipal bathhouse fatality of last week when eleven boys were drowned, Judge J. J. Mahoney made a personal inspection of the bathhouse and will report later.

At this morning's hearing former officials and employees of the public property department who had charge of the bathhouses testified regarding the history and construction of the bathhouse in the Merrimack river. Former Supt. of Public Property John Reynolds under whose direction the bathhouses were built, testified that the construction this year was not the same as when he was in charge in that only one ledger board was used in the construction this year, in connecting the runway with the entrance to the bathhouse as against two last year.

The accident was caused by the walk collapsing when the nailheads were pulled through the ledger board. Supt. John S. Battershill, who has charge of the bathhouses this year, testified this morning that in his opinion the runway was strong enough for what it was intended. He testified that he condemned the bathhouses after the accident because they had become waterlogged.

MEETING IS POSTPONED

Council Will Meet Tomorrow—Other Notes

The municipal council was scheduled to meet at 11 o'clock this forenoon but the meeting didn't materialize. There was some delay relative to the preparation of the list of unpaid bills of the street department for 1912 and the members agreed to call the meeting off until tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

Tons of Crushed Stone
One hundred tons of crushed stone have been received from the Fletcher quarry in Chelmsford for the macadamizing of Gorham street. The work has been held up for some time because there was no stone on hand, the crusher at the city ledge having been put out of commission by accident to its jaws.

Signs Tumbled Over
There are a whole lot of people in this world who do not believe in signs and just for that the little red signs that point the way for automobilists in Merrimack square and other points are having their ups and downs. The one in the vicinity of Tower's corner has been battered and bruised and scared and rent, but outside of that is all right. It is still doing business at the old stand and admonishing the man at the wheel to keep to the right and go slow.

Because of the infraction of the traffic rules, Commissioner Donnelly will have signs posted in Merrimack square and streets contiguous to the square, advising the "vehicular public" that they may remain only 20 minutes in one spot, and this rule, Mr. Donnelly states, will apply alike to peasant and potentate.

Young Women's Conference
E. NORTHFIELD, July 10.—An address by the Rev. J. Stuart Holden of London brought to a close last night the largest Young Women's conference ever held at Northfield. The total registration of this conference was 405 against 522 last year. The sum of $350 was pledged by the young women for the organization of a camp at Northfield for poor girls in memory of Louise Stockton Andrews of Plainfield, N. J., who died recently.

STILL ANOTHER
VACANT HOUSE
ROBBED

Burglars got into the house of Wm. E. Russell of Cambridge last week, while the family was away over the Fourth. Mr. Russell is the son of former Governor Russell. The property taken includes a number of wedding gifts, and among the valuables were a dozen silver spoons and a dozen silver forks of various sizes, two dozen coffee spoons, a dozen silver knives, a number of old-fashioned pieces of silver—knives, forks and spoons—two brooches, one containing 23 diamonds and valued at $175, and another of sapphires and diamonds, valued at $175, a pearl breastpin, a set of pearl studs, an amethyst pin, a set of earrings and a pendant and chain worth $200.

Easy work for Mr. Burglar, was it not? How easy to have avoided this loss! How easy, before leaving city, to have stepped in at Middlesex Trust Co., corner Merrimack and Palmer streets, and locked up the articles. It would have cost but five minutes of time, but Five Dollars in money.

CONFESSION OF INCENDIARISM FIVE SOLDIERS BURNED TO DEATH

Mrs. Bigby Tells How She Burned Down Residence of Sir Wm. Lever and Other Buildings

LIVERPOOL, July 10.—A dramatic confession of incendiarism was made by a well known militant suffragette, Mrs. Edith Right, wife of a physician at Preston in the police court here today. Mrs. Right declared it was she who had, on July 8, burned down the country residence at Rivington, near Herwich, Lancashire, of Sir William Lever, causing damages estimated at $100,000. She further confessed to be the perpetrator of the outrage at the Liverpool stock exchange on July 5, when a bomb exploded, but caused little damage.

TAKE $32,000 IN JEWELRY

New York Woman Was Robbed in Paris Hotel

PARIS, July 10.—Mrs. John Martin of New York was robbed last evening of jewelry valued at $32,000 at a hotel on the Place Vendôme, where she is staying.

Yesterday Mrs. Martin changed from the room she had been occupying which overlooked a side street, to one on the Place Vendôme. She carried her smaller belongings to her new apartment herself and placed her jewelry wrapped in a handkerchief on the table. When the time came to dress for dinner the jewels were no longer there.

An exhaustive search was made but they were not found and Mrs. Martin today informed the police.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Merrimack Square Theatre

Little Jimmy Valentine is funnier than ever. If you wish to be convinced of this fact don't fail to witness one of the performances at the Merrimack Square theatre. Jimmy is "there" and while it is the same little Jimmy, the act is new. The French Bros. present a clever musical turn and Lillian Sherry is most pleasing then ever in illustrated songs, while Aerial Stool balances off the bill in a wonderful exhibition of gymnastic work. The program, as usual, are the best to be had from the largest manufacturers in the world. It is always good and comfortable here. Twenty electric fans and 15 doors keep the temperature down to a comfortable figure.

Lakeview Park

For the week commencing Monday, July 15, at Lakeview park a sensational high wire performance that is said to be full of thrills, has been booked. James H. Harty, a brilliant and daring artist in this line, is the man who is expected to create a sensation with his daring and hair-raising feats. July 15 is a record of fine years as a thrilling aerial attraction at the principal resorts of America and European countries. One of the best of things that Mrs. George Harty into pond-

Fire Causes Heavy Damage in Vicinity of Mount Tamalpais, Cal.—Many Towns Ruined

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Five soldiers are reported burned to death and half a dozen hamlets and towns at the foot of Mount Tamalpais await their salvation or destruction today while the fire which has swept the mountain for three days in melting snow the plains and vineyards to the north and the Muir woods National park to the south. Every available soldier from the San Francisco presidio and Fort Winfield Scott on this side of the bay and Fort Baker and Berry across the Golden Gate is fighting the fire side by side with civilians and sailors and United States war vessels. Probably 6000 men are on the fire lines seeking to beat back or wear down a blaze which broke out with increasing fury late yesterday and extended this morning over a ten mile sweep. Captain Charles P. Plunkett, commanding the cruiser South Dakota, marched 600 of his men from the Mills Valley station up the border of the fire in Cascade canyon early today to take a look at the fire and march them back again.

Capt. Plunkett said: "It would take all the people in California to put out that fire. Let it burn out. I have expert gunpointers among my men worth $25,000 apiece to the government. I am not going to risk their lives."

There was a series of performances that he gave over the Niagara which had been reported. Performances over the Niagara falls. Rochester, N. Y., and Montmorency falls, Quebec, Canada, also attracted much attention. A long list of engagements followed, including one of 26 weeks at the Crystal Palace, London.

Arrangements are now being made for swimming races at Lakeview and the first one of the series will take place on Thursday afternoon, July 17. Cash prizes will be offered and all sorts of amusements will be provided. Other water sports are also scheduled for Lakeview at an early date.

Zeno, Jordan & Zeno continue to please and thrill large crowds at their performances on the open air stage, that are given every afternoon and evening.

Theatre Voyages

MANY OUTINGS TODAY

3 Big Stores Close for Annual Outings

The employees of three of Lowell's largest and most prominent business firms enjoyed outings today to various resorts and in each case the attendance was very large.

Pollard Company Employees

The A. G. Pollard company was closed for the entire day while the employees of the big department store enjoyed an outing to Nahant. The party left the square at 7.15 o'clock this morning on three special cars and were a happy crowd as they boarded the conveyance bound for a day of pleasure. No small feature of the outing was the trip on the electric which is truly a delightful one. A novel program of sporting events and other amusements had been previously arranged and the party upon arriving at their destination, immediately proceeded to enjoy the features of the day. A big outing dinner was served at the beach. There was bathing, boating, baseball, races, and all the other amusements afforded by a beach resort. Lion Marches Employees
The Lion Marches employees went to Nahant, leaving in the early morning by special train. This store, too, was closed for the entire day. Those in charge of this outing had spared no pains in the arrangements and the result was that the affair was a brilliant success and highly enjoyed by all.

The beach afforded unlimited resources for a variety of diversion. There was a very large attendance at this outing.

Saunders Market

John F. Saunders' market closed down early this morning so that the employees could enjoy their outing to Revere beach. No less enjoyable and successful than the others was this event, the party leaving on a special car at 7.15. A bounteous repast was served at the beach and bathing, etc., was enjoyed. They were a merry gathering and ready for anything that bore promise of good wholesome fun.

The Central M. E. church of Chelsea

held an outing today to Chelmsford lake and the party went by special car early this morning. This morning the weather was threatening and it looked as though the outings were to be spoiled by rain. Later in the forenoon, however, the sky became brighter and the day gave promise of being ideal for the picnic. #### Oil Paintings Stolen

CAMBRIDGE, July 10.—Thieves with an eye to art removed 15 oil paintings ranging in value from $25 to $250 each from the walls of the residence of Taylor W. Mathers at North Cambridge during the absence of the family. The burglary was discovered today.

Articles of jewelry also taken made a total loss about $3000.

DR. FRIEDMANN'S CURE

Dr. Rambaud Tells How Vaccine is Obtained

NEW YORK, July 10.—Dr. George D. Rambaud of New York city, medical director of the Institute operating on the Friedmann process for the treatment of tuberculosis, announced yesterday that the vaccine consists of a homogeneous emulsion of live, virulent tubercle bacilli in sterile distilled water.

The germ was isolated several years ago from a turtle and maintained ever since by transplantation on culture media, according to the usual procedure.

The vaccine is administered to patients in doses of from cubic centimeters 0.16 to cubic centimeters 0.30 at intervals of from four to six weeks. Injections are made intravenously in the case of joint tuberculosis and intramuscularly in the case of lung tuberculosis. He says: "Any physician in good standing is welcome to familiarize himself at the various laboratories where the vaccine is prepared with the details concerning the administration of the treatment, that he may be able to use it personally on his own patients."

Bunting Club

There will be a fast cricket match on Saturday afternoon between the bunting team and a picked team representing Chelmsford. The contest will take place on the Bunting grounds in South Lowell.

FARNSWORTH IS FREE

Wife Carries Pardon to Cripple Husband

PLYMOUTH, July 10.—David D. Farnsworth of Bridgewater, who has served 13 days of a six months' sentence for manslaughter, hobbled on his crutches through the great iron doorway of the Plymouth county jail yesterday into the waiting arms of his wife, a free man.

The pardon that permitted him to walk forth from the walls of iron and stone was brought to Plymouth by

Mrs. Farnsworth, who delivered it in person to Sheriff Porter. Then came the meeting of husband and wife, so full of joy and yet so pathetic, that even bluff Sheriff Porter, used to scenes of the kind, turned away from the crippled man and his slight little wife.

From that time until the Farnsworth home was reached in Bridgewater the man who had been set free by pardon granted in record-breaking time by the governor and full council was showered on all sides with congratulations. The climax came, however, when the modest home was reached and the doz. Gyp, who mourned and refused to be comforted for days and days after his master had been sent away, jumped all over him with staccato barks of delight.

BIRD OUT FOR GOVERNOR

Feels it is His Duty to Serve Party

BOSTON, July 10.—Declaring that he believed it to be his duty to serve the progressive party this year, Charles Summer Bird last night announced that he had authorized the placing of his nomination papers in circulation as a candidate for governor on the progressive ticket.

In his announcement Mr. Bird said that he would rather work in the ranks than as a candidate for office, but as he owes the progressive cause more than it owes him he had decided to become a candidate for governor.

He emphasized what he claims are two important political issues—a more centralized form of government for the state and a law compelling an investigation with a report on all facts before a strike or lockout could occur. He says that the industrial situation in spots is little short of anarchy.

FINAL DRAFT OF TARIFF

Republicans Say Courts Will Settle Questions

WASHINGTON, July 10.—If the tariff revision bill becomes a law as it has been passed upon by the senate, democratic caucus, many of its provisions will be tied up in the courts for interpretation, in the opinion of republican senate leaders. Senator Smoot, republican member of the finance committee, declared yesterday that the change in the phraseology and of the finance committee and sent to classifications in the bill are such that the printer.

It would take four years of court procedure to settle just what they mean, and that revenues in the meantime would be held up.

The democratic senators, in view of the failure of the caucus to pass a stringent binding resolution, are going to be permitted to vote for amendments to the wool and sugar schedules, is another claim made yesterday by the republicans. They expressed the belief that amendments will pass the senate cutting out free raw wool and free sugar, but that the house conferees would yield and that all the democratic senate leaders. Senator Smoot, republican member of the finance committee, declared yesterday that the change in the phraseology and of the finance committee and sent to classifications in the bill are such that the printer.

ELKS' NEW HOME

Grand Lodge Accepts $200,000 Bid of Salt Lake City Contractor for New National Home

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 10.—The Grand Lodge of Elks in 49th reunion accepted the $200,000 bid of a Salt Lake City contractor and will build a new national home. Whether the home shall be on the site of the present home in Redford, Va., or elsewhere rests with the national home commission of which Garry Hermann of Cincinnati is chairman. A per capita tax of 25 cents will be levied on the members of subordinate lodges, giving approximately $103,000 to apply on the cost of the new home.

Charles A. White of Chicago was elected treasurer of the grand lodge.

SCHOOL JANITORS' CONVENTION SEIZE 3000 PINTS OF WHISKEY ROOSEVELT GOES WEST TEETH MARKS ON BODY 500 PERSONS ISOLATED

Lowell Men Elected to Office—Expert Gave Address on Heating and Ventilating

There were about 55 Lowell members present at the convention in Lawrence yesterday of the Massachusetts Association of School Janitors. The convention was held in the Spinnery's hall. The Lowell delegates were J. H. Dane, John O'Connor, John Palm, Dennis Harrington, James Housnell, Patrick Mahoney, and John Toy.

The convention was a very large and interesting one, there being present about 150 school janitors from various parts of the state. A large number of Lowell members who were not delegates, went to the down river city to attend.

Thomas Keegan, of the Butler school of this city, was unanimously re-elected state president. J. H. Dane of the Bartlett school, Lowell, resigned his position as assistant state secretary and Patrick Mahoney, also of Lowell, was elected in his stead. W. C. Tilton of New Bedford was chosen as secretary and the treasurer's office was filled by the selection of Waldo Leasure of Lawrence.

A banquet was served in the high school hall and proved a very enjoyable event. Mayor Scanlon of Lawrence was among the principal speakers during the convention, complimenting the janitors' association on

Maine Sheriff Smells Booze on Auto and Arrests Men for Illegal Transportation

LEWISTON, Me., July 10.—The difficulties of transporting intoxicating liquors into Maine for illegal sale since the passage of the Webb law to prevent the shipment of liquors into prohibition states and the more strict enforcement of the Maine prohibitory law was demonstrated by the sheriff late last night at Wales, when a big motor truck and its contents was seized by Sheriff Fred E. Stevens.

The truck contained 70 boxes in which were packed nearly 3000 pints of whiskey, which were being transported from Boston to Augusta, the state's capital. It was said to be the largest seizure ever made in Androscoggin county.

The boxes were cleverly concealed by furniture, carpets, gymnasium mats and various household goods and by a large desk, strapped to the rear of the load.

"What have you there?" inquired Sheriff Stevens when he caught up with the truck after an exciting run from Lewiston.

"Furniture," was the reply.

"Furniture, nothing!" exclaimed the sheriff. "That's booze. I can smell it."

He then arrested the two men, accompanying the truck, who gave their names as Francis R. Downey of Roxbury, Mass., and Frank J. Glasser of Boston, on the charge of illegal possession and illegal transportation, and took them to Auburn jail with the truck and its contents.

termites of which deceased was a member including:

Lowell No. 1255, Order of Owls; Canton Pawtucket No. 9, I. O. O. F.; the R. P. O. Elks, No. 57; Highland Veritas lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F.; S. H. Hines lodge, K. of P., Pilgrim encampment, No. 4, I. O. O. F.; Passaconaway tribe, Improved Order of Red Men and the Centralville Rebekahs.

Burial took place in the family lot in the Edison cemetery where Rev. Dr. Whitaker again spoke words of Christian comfort to the bereaved relatives and read the committal prayer, "Ablute With Me" was then sung by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Merrill, Passaconaway tribe, Red Men, Queen City, K. of P. of Manchester, N. H., Mr. Walter Holland, the I. O. O. F., Louise Bernier, J. M. Kingsbury, a friend, Mr. and Mrs. George Robeson and John Robeson, Mr. A. H. Hall, Mrs. Maria Fox, Mr. Frank Batchelder, Mrs. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. George Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abare and the Barnard family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard of Belmont, N. H.

FUNERAL NOTICE

CAVANAUGH—The funeral of the late Bartholomew Cavanaugh will take place Friday morning from his home, 120 Lowell street at 9 o'clock. Solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. Michael's church, at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker C. H. Melloy in charge.

Mrs. Laurin, wife of Dr. Theophile Laurin of Middlesex street and her four children, left yesterday for Canada, where she will spend the summer months, visiting relatives in Montreal and Cacouna, Que.

Colonel and Sons on Vacation

NEW YORK, July 10.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt started on his outing to Arizona. He left with his sons, Archie and Quentin, for the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and said he would forget all about politics, both local, state and national. The former president is not expected to return for the fall campaign, for he said he would stay in New York only a week when he came back from Arizona and then would go on his Argentine trip.

Dentist Will be Called to Testify

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 10.—The discovery of marks on the body of Alice Crispell, believed to be inflicted by a man's teeth, has resulted in the postponement of the inquest which was scheduled to be held yesterday afternoon.

The inquest will probably be conducted by Coroner James Marley tomorrow morning at the Onondaga hotel, which faces Harvey's lake, where the body of the girl was found on Monday.

The inquest is supposed to have been made by teeth are on the right hand and right arm of the dead girl. The inquest which the authorities are expected to take care of the teeth of Herbert Johns, the girl's suitor, now under arrest.

District Attorney John H. Bigelow abandoned his intention to put John through a "third degree" as the result of the finding of the supposed teeth marks. Bigelow wants to establish first of all that the marks could not have been inflicted by anything other than teeth.

Coroner Marley has carefully refrained from expressing a view as to whether or not the girl was murdered. He stated today, however, that he could find no possible motive for murder. He said:

"There is absolutely no indication of anyone wanting to put the girl out of the way. We made a thorough examination and found nothing. In our deduction we are substantiated by the statements of the dead girl's mother. There are bruises that look like teeth marks, although the wounds could have been inflicted by a jagged rock or by falling."

Every sign in the investigation now hinges on the marks found on the girl's body, both Coroner Marley and Dr. P. J. Higgins, who performed the autopsy, declared.

TAKE $3000 IN SALMON

Federal Authorities Burn Up 23,616 Cans

BOSTON, July 10.—Alaskan salmon, contained in 23,616 cans packed in 984 wooden cases, valued at $3000, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon at the Commonwealth flats, South Boston, because it was below the pure food standard.

The salmon was seized two months ago while in the possession of a Boston dealer, to whom it had been shipped from Alaska. The Alaskan company claimed it was in perfect condition when shipped, but had been dumped into the water when the deck from which it was to be shipped collapsed. The United States authorities declared it was adulterated and contained decomposed matter.

The destruction of the salmon yesterday was under the direction of Deputy United States Marshal Charles A. Bancroft and Bailiff Chester Trask. Such an unusual bonfire attracted a crowd and the ever present motion picture machine was there to reproduce the scene for theatre-goers.

The boxes were piled high on excelsior in a large circle and then a man poured several gallons of oil over the whole. As soon as a match was touched to it the flames leaped high in the air, sometimes up to 100 feet.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., July 10.—Pitcher Neihaus and Shortstop Callahan of the local South Michigan league team were sold yesterday to the St. Louis National league club. The price announced was $3000. They will report at the close of the South Michigan league season.

Big Fire at Plum Island Wrecked Bridge

NEWBURYPORT, July 10.—Five hundred residents of this city were isolated on Plum Island last night when fire destroyed the Essex county highway bridge over the Plum Island river. There is no means of communication with the mainland, except by small boats and hotel accommodations on the islands are decidedly limited. At a late hour most of the stranded ones were wandering on the marshes along the river looking for boats which would get them across. Cottagers took care of some people but there was not shelter enough for all. A fire in the late afternoon which burned two stores and a cottage on the island attracted many Newburyport people to the scene in trolley cars and a large number of them were still on the island when the bridge fire started. Trolley service was suspended and telephone communication interrupted.

DYNAMITERS RELEASED

Young and Wachmeister Leave Leavenworth

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 10.—Michael J. Young of Boston and Charles Wachmeister of Detroit, two of the men convicted at the dynamite conspiracy trial at Indianapolis, were released from the United States penitentiary here yesterday when notice was received from Chicago that their bonds had been approved. The two men left at once for their homes.

Only 10 of the 33 men brought here from Indianapolis, Jan. 1, now remain in prison. The government holds $100,000 in bonds given for the men who have been released.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Desforges of Rock street.

TWO MEN KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Many Injured, House Set Afire and Buildings Flattened by Gale That Swept Illinois

AURORA, Ill., July 9.—Several lives were lost and a number of persons injured, houses were set afire, cities were left in darkness and hundreds of farm buildings were flattened by the gale which swept across this section of the country late yesterday afternoon. The news began to creep into Aurora today. David H. Frazier, traveling salesman of Geneva, was killed when he touched a live wire which had been blown down.

Richard Wallenberg, farmer, was killed at Bristol when a wagon blew over and crushed him.

Two men were killed at Elgin by lightning.

Mrs. Frazier, wife of the man killed at Geneva, was badly burned about the hands and arms while attempting to rescue her husband.

The city of Batavia was in darkness last night. At Elgin $100,000 damage was done to buildings.

The storm unroofed many houses in Aurora and stopped street cars for a short time. The loss in the surrounding country is put at $125,000.

TITANIC SUIT IS FILED

Woman Seeks $50,000 for Husband's Death

BOSTON, July 10.—A suit for $50,000 against the Oceanic Steam Navigation company for the loss of the life of Philippe Wiseman on the steamship Titanic April 15, 1912, was brought in the superior court yesterday by his widow, Mrs. Marie Wiseman of Quebec, for the benefit of herself and six children.

The plaintiff alleges negligence in providing lifeboats, life rafts and other means of life preservation; failing to equip its lookouts and watchmen with night glasses, so they were unable to see the iceberg, which the steamship struck in time to prevent the collision and failing to furnish sufficient trained employees to man the lifeboats or rafts.

She alleges the officers failed to take the precaution of reducing the speed of the steamship and increasing the number of lookouts and watchmen, although having knowledge that the steamship was in or near the "iceberg zone," which was a definite location according to the season of the year.

The declaration sets out that J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the steamship line, was on board and virtually, if not nominally, in charge. She says the defendant through Ismay and its officers had been warned by wireless messages from other vessels of large icebergs in the path of the ship and it failed to decrease the speed to a point of safety.

Under a statute known as Lord Campbell's act, the plaintiff claims the right to sue in the courts in this state.

Violation of Chinese Act
BOSTON, July 10.—Charged with violation of the Chinese exclusion act in that two of his crew of Chinese went ashore and failed to return, Capt. H. Lochhart-Muir, commander of the British steamer Allette, was held under $100 bonds for the full term of the grand jury by U. S. Commissioner Hayes yesterday. The court overruled the captain's claim that the Chinese members of his crew were British subjects inasmuch as their homes were in Hong Kong and Singapore, both British possessions.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

The Home Beauty Parlor

Pay: If you find it hard to make face powder stay on in summer, try this simple, home-made, economical lotion, which does not rub off. Get 4 ounces of spum and dissolve in 2 pint hot water or witch hazel. Add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine and let stand until cold. Apply to face, neck and arms, rubbing it in well. The effect is natural and lasting. It seems a part of the skin and relieves that sallow, oily look, while giving a velvety softness to the skin.

Brown Eyes: From what you say I think your eyes are simply overworked. I am sure all you need is a simple tonic. Here is one I always recommend. Dissolve an ounce of crystals in a pint of water. One or two drops in each eye every day will soon show a great improvement in sparkle and strength. It may save you further expense of oculist and glasses. Try it. Possibly your system is a bit run down, also. For a good tonic, see answer to Wilma.

Wilma: Your complexion troubles are doubtless caused by a generally run-down condition, common in the warm months. I can heartily recommend this tonic for purifying the blood and building up of appetite and strength. You can make it at home at little expense. Just dissolve an ounce of karoene (any good druggist keeps it) in 1/2 pint alcohol. Add 1/2 cup sugar and enough water to make a full quart. Take it regularly—a tablespoonful before meals, and see the improvement not only in your feelings, but in your looks.

Blonde: If your hair is changing color by all means use this shampoo. It will keep it light and fluffy; will prevent or cure dandruff and remove the excess oil which causes dandruff. Get some plain canthorv from your druggist and for each shampoo dissolve a scant teaspoonful in cup of water. Pour on the head gradually, rubbing in well. Makes a soothing, exhilarating, perfumed lather. This is inexpensive and simple, but the results will surprise you.

Mrs. X: The wrinkles and lines in your skin are probably caused by extreme dryness. Here is a preparation which you can make for yourself which will remove the wrinkles, and restore the softness and natural tone to the skin. Get an ounce of alcohol of the drug store and dissolve it in 1/2 pint cold water, adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply before retiring and leave over night. This will remove wrinkles, prevent crow's feet and make your face soft and satiny. It clears and whitens the skin, too.

Laura: The dandruff of which you complain is so easily remedied that I wonder one will put up with it. Dandruff is an unsightly thing and positively prevents a healthy growth of hair. It is caused by a dry scalp. A week, a simple preparation made at home by mixing an ounce of quinine in 1/2 pint of alcohol and 1/2 pint water. This is a natural tonic to which many tell me they owe fine growths of hair.

Kitty: Do not try to reduce by dieting or heavy exercise. I have often told how to reduce flesh without dieting or heavy exercise. I repeat the recipe for your benefit: Get 4 ounces parrotis, dissolve it in 1/2 pint hot water and take a tablespoonful three times a day before meals. It is harmless and will do wonders to restore your slender proportions, because it leaves the flesh firm.

M. M.: I cannot recommend any hair dye. See answer to Fay for liquid beautifier.

PRES. MELLON'S RESIGNATION

President Mellon's resignation from the presidency of the Boston and Maine road, while not altogether unexpected, is especially significant, coming as it did on the eve of the publication of the interstate commerce commission findings which in their disclosures were in the main condemnatory of his policies, and opposed to him in their recommendations. No one can definitely say at this time that there was any direct connection between the interstate commerce report and the resignation, but the public regards the connection rather close to be a mere coincidence. While there are many other conjectures as to the underlying motives of President Mellon's action, it is safe to say that in a broad sense it is the direct result of the general public condemnation which has attended his reckless policies since the merger of the New Haven and Boston and Maine railroads took effect.

Looking on the charge in its relation to local railroad development it promises to work for good. Both roads are sufficiently important—and we might add with propriety, sufficiently unsatisfactory at present—to warrant the undivided attention of men with broad and constructive policies, and the problems of the two roads are entirely different and call for different management. Following the recommendation of the interstate commerce commission the New Haven might advantageously give up its impracticable dream of expansion until it is in better financial condition, and the Boston and Maine has a great problem in bringing all its departments up to the standard of modern adequate efficiency. President Mellon made the glaring mistake of wasting resources in a multiplicity of enterprises, and in his dream of a great future solidification of the widely diverging interests of the New Haven, the Boston and Maine railroad was allowed to deteriorate. Both railroads must now face a period of reconstruction if they are to be again established on a paying basis, giving adequate returns for the money invested, and reinstated in the public confidence.

The failure of President Mellon to combine large collateral interests under one management will serve as a warning to all the railroads of this country that combinations and mergers entail an enormous responsibility and are fraught with grave danger. This is particularly true when the combining roads are not fully successful as units at the time of the amalgamation. It will also serve to show that it is bad policy to evade the letter or spirit of the law as the public cannot countenance shady manipulations indefinitely and when public sentiment begins to condemn, the end is in sight. Railroadings is public business, and the people should be allowed to see its inner workings. If there is any reason for concealment so much the worse for the railroads. If this lesson has been learned by the directors of the New Haven and Boston and Maine, we may hope for a speedy improvement in the railroad situation of New England.

CONCERNING THE NEW HAVEN

The interstate commerce commission has made an exhaustive inquiry into the affairs of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, the results of which have been just made public in an exhaustively analytical report. Besides laying bare the unwise activities which have brought the road and its subsidiaries into serious popular disfavor, it outlines the constructive policies which should be followed if the lines in question are to regain their former efficiency and prestige.

Briefly summing up the main points of the report, it states that the New Haven railroad has brought on injurious public criticism by disregard or wilful evasion of the law both in spirit and letter. It has shown a desire for unwarranted and unwise expansion in the acquisition of trolley and steamship lines—wasting millions in some of its transactions. It has made unnecessary campaign contributions and wasted financial resources by unscientific methods of keeping accounts. Its passenger rates compare favorably in the main with those of other railroads, but its freight service is in need of improvement. In striving to obtain a monopoly on the New England railroad service it has destroyed competition and must be placed under strict government control.

Although the suggestions of the commission are not mandatory, they are in accordance with the feelings of the public and point out the remedy for the present satisfactory situation. They urge upon the railroad the necessity for divesting itself of trolley and water lines, and the strict adherence to the proper business of railroading. They also advise the meeting of adverse criticism by a compliance with the law. They urge a constructive policy in building up the physical properties of the New Haven and its subsidiaries, and improvements in the freight and passenger rates.

agance in New Haven expenditures—especially in securing the trolley lines, in one of which over $13,000,000 was lost.—the road is still solvent, and it can be again put on a sound financial footing by giving up its pernicious policy of wasteful expansion and attending to a general upbuilding and improvement of the service.

IS THE LAW BEING VIOLATED?

A few days ago a group of Polish immigrants who made a temporary stay here en route for New Hampshire points gave information to an interpreter, who in turn discussed it with a Sun reporter, which would indicate that these immigrants were brought here either in violation of the alien contract law or as victims of the padrone system. Some of them were going to a sawmill owned by one of their race who had written to Russia asking them to come here, and others claimed to have been sent for by representatives of various mills who had assured them that their railroad fare would be partly paid by the officials of the mills in which they were promised employment.

Owing to the fact that they were not destined to this city and because of their ignorance of American laws and American conditions in general, the Polish immigrants were unable to tell whether the inducement to come here was offered by the direct management of the mills or through private individuals. This is regrettable because it would be interesting to see if the violators of the law were organized in their defiance of government regulations or acting as individuals, taking the risk for the sake of the financial gain. In either case the offence is not slight, and the law provides a heavy penalty. After the revelations of recent years and the labor unrest due in great measure to the importation of cheap labor, those who offer inducements to foreigners to come here are guilty of a crime against society, the seriousness of which in full may still depend on the revelations of the future.

Most people felt assured after the great strikes in the New England industrial centres for the past few years that the management of the mills would see the danger of making representations to disgruntled foreigners which were impossible of fulfillment, and that such a course would be unknown for the future. Even though they should still desire to import labor it was felt that they would not dare to use the former methods. Violations of the alien contract law were considered a thing of the past. The padrone system does not die easily, but the history of recent cases of it in this part of the country shows that the authorities are fully alive to the danger of it and resolved to stamp it out, as the sentences imposed on those who offend were unusually heavy. The local instance of the Polish immigrants, however, forces us to the conclusion that violations of the law are still going on, and until there is a complete elimination of this serious offence we may expect a continuation of the unsatisfactory condition of labor in the mills of New England.

TARIFF AND SHOE TRADE

Among the industries which those who oppose tariff reform most persistently quote as illustrative of its ruinous effects is the shoe industry of New England and on the other hand in no industry of the country is the outlook brighter—if one may judge from the optimistic predictions of leading shoe manufacturers. One of the latest to sound this hopeful note is A. W. Donovan, a manufacturer of Rockland who gives his views as to the effects of the tariff on the shoe industry in a special section of the Boston Herald of Wednesday which is devoted to a discussion of the shoe and leather industry of New England.

Mr. Donovan says that the removal of the present tariff on shoes will probably result in a greater importation of the English product, but that owing to the constant development of new ideas and the continual changes in shoe styles, no foreign manufacturer can compete with the American maker. He does not expect the shoe industry to offset the new tariff by any great gains in economy or efficiency as he avers that the shoe industry is now a generation ahead of many other lines of business. He also expects great things of the American shoe worker as he says: "No small part of the solution of the matter will be found in the aptitude of the American shoe worker to bring out the ideas of experts who are constantly devising new styles and new methods in shoes and leather." The views of one expert are worth the plantations of twenty theorists, and it is encouraging to those who are equally interested in the tariff reform and the welfare of our industries to find a prominent manufacturer so sanguine as to the future in this very important American industry. Still the statement of William L. Douglass is recalled that the shoe industry wanted only free hides to make it prosperous and enable it to reduce the price of shoes. The tariff was removed from hides but the Douglass prophecy as to lower prices was not fulfilled.

Seen and Heard

We have to go back to the reign of Edward III. to find the holder of the English title of strike record. Cecilia, wife of John de Ryegway, was in 1357 confined in Nottingham jail on a charge of murdering her husband, and there, according to the old records, she abstained from meat and drink for 40 days. Which, being reported to the king, he was "moved by pity, and for the glory of God and the Blessed Virgin, to grant the woman a pardon." The records say nothing of her guilt or innocence, nor do they throw any light on fourteenth-century ideas of forcible feeding.—London Chronicle.

Gov. Earl Byrnes of Mississippi, recently happened in a town where a country club had just been organized. Consequently everybody was talking golf. The governor listened awhile and then smiled.

"I am reminded," he explained, "of the experience of a friend of mine who is much better on conventional golf than the practical thing."

"One day in struggling over the course he made one miserable play after another to the evident delight of his small caddy. Finally he tore up a piece of turf."

"Just look at that!" he exclaimed, lifting the sod in his hand. "What in the world is it?"

"If I were you, sir," advised the chuckling caddy, "I would take it up to the hotel to practice on."

That the youngster can follow the instructions of mother too literally was demonstrated by a story told by Admiral Sigbee.

Among the several things the admiral related to his wife that under no circumstances must he take a second piece of cake if it was offered to him.

On the boy's return that night mother proceeded to question him relative to the glad time he had. Seen the examination led to the table.

"I suppose, Willie," said mother, "that you remembered what I told you about the second piece of cake?"

"You just let it did!" enthusiastically replied Willie. "There was nothing doing when she asked me to have another helping."

"I am very glad you refused, Willie," returned mother, with a pleased expression. "What did you say to her?"

"What did I say to her?" was the startling rejoinder of Willie. "Why, I just said to her, 'Not on your life!'"

We know that eggs are almost indispensable for cooking, but they are just as valuable for other things as well.

A mustard plaster made with the white of eggs will not blister the tenderest skin. The fragile white skin that lines the shell of an egg is a fine application for a boil.

The white of eggs beaten with loaf sugar and lemon juice relieves a cough and hoarseness. A teaspoonful every hour is the dose.

If a fish bone lodges in the throat beyond the reach of the fingers a raw egg swallowed (without being beaten) will in most instances carry the bone along.

A good remedy for stomach and bowel trouble is a raw egg taken every six hours. The egg should be partly beaten, though not to froth. A little white of egg spread over a scald or burn will prevent the air from getting to it and hasten the healing.

For preserving jelly in glasses, paper should be cut to fit at the top and smeared with the raw white of eggs. The egg side down.

A little white of egg curdled with a bit of powdered alum will stop a sty if used as soon as the sty appears. Be careful not to get the mixture inside the eye. It will do no injury, but it stings and is unpleasant.—Journal of Agriculture.

CRAMPS, HEADACHE, BACKACHE,

Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"I was always tired and weak and my housework was a drag. I was irregular, had cramps so bad that I would have to lie down, also a distressed feeling in lower part of back, and headache. My abdomen was sore and I know I had organic inflammation."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier have helped me wonderfully. I don't have those pains any more and I am all right now. There are a great many women here who take your remedies and I have told others what they have done for me."—Mrs. CHAS. McKINNON, 1013 N. 6th St. W., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 30 years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. If you are sick and need such a medicine, why don't you try it?

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Native and Foreign

Fall River Globe: There was neither sense nor logic in the proposition to apply the literacy test in the matter of admitting immigrants to the United States. Apropos of this it is worthy of notice that according to the census of 1910 it appears that the percentage of illiteracy among the offspring of immigrants—that is, those of the second generation—in this country was 1.1 as compared with 1.7 per cent of those born of parents of native stock.

Have You Noticed It?

Brooklyn Times: An observant New York professor, studying the prevalence of automobile accidents, notices no chauffeur ever runs down a traffic policeman. Pedestrians on all sides may be bowled over like ninepins, but the traffic cop, in his smart uniform, is a charmed life. There may be two reasons for his safety. Perhaps his uniform, making him more noticeable, permits the drivers to see and avoid him. That is the kindest explanation, and applies to the case of the better class of motorists. The other, harsh and positive, is that chauffeurs, even the most careless, are afraid of a policeman.

Reform Needed

Burlington Free Press: How about a reform of men's wearing apparel? If something that would look as well as a coat and yet not roast the wearer, and something else that would ornament the throat as beautifully as a collar and yet not wilt could be invented, we would all forego a few reforms of mere politics. ## WOMAN GROUND TO DEATH

Threw Herself in Front of Locomotive

BOSTON, July 10.—An unidentified woman, apparently about 37 years old, clothed in a white shirt waist and skirt and wearing a wedding ring, cast herself in front of the local train bound for Mansfield last night at a point near the Walpole street ball grounds in Roxbury, and received injuries from which she soon died. The woman was crushed between the two forward trucks of the heavy locomotive, the tragedy happening at 6.30 p. m. Whether the woman became confused walking among the tracks, or intended to commit suicide, is not known.

When the engineer, who was not held by the police, saw the woman on the track in front of his locomotive, he threw on the air and emergency brakes, but was unable to stop the train in time to save her life.

The woman was picked up unconscious by the train hands and taken to the Back Bay station and from there to the City hospital. It was found that she had died on the way.

According to witnesses, the woman was walking on the tracks and stepped aside for at least two trains before she got in front of the one that took her life. Engineer Palmer said that he did not think the woman was going to step in front of his train when he first sighted her white-clad figure.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Actor Was Charged With Killing Policeman

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 10.—James S. Devlin, a vaudeville actor on trial, charged with murder in the first degree for killing Patrick Conside, a policeman, in May, was acquitted by a supreme court jury last night. Devlin saw his wife with Conside in the street and used language to her which the policeman resented. A quarrel resulted and Conside was shot and mortally wounded. The jury reached its verdict after three hours' deliberation. Devlin did not take the stand in his case, tried to show great provocation through testimony that Conside had goaded the actor to the shooting by treating him brutally in the presence of Mrs. Devlin and then scornfully daring him to retaliate. As chief witness for her husband, Mrs. Devlin, who was Mae Elwood, actress, declared she was the only witness of the killing, thus contradicting the story told by Miss Annie Devlin, the defendant's cousin, that she was present and that Devlin's act was premeditated. Conside, big and burly, slapped and punched Devlin at will. Mrs. Devlin testified, until her husband in desperation cried out that he wished he had a gun. Conside handed Devlin his pistol, the actor's wife declared, saying "Here's my gun, go ahead and shoot." A moment later a shot sounded and the policeman fell mortally wounded. Mrs. Devlin said she did not see who fired the shot.

COUNTRY'S GREAT CORN CROP

Dept. of Agriculture Issues Report Showing Acreage and Condition of Output

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The first idea of this year of the country's greatest crop—corn—was given yesterday when the department of agriculture issued its report showing the acreage, condition and estimate of the number of bushels of corn which condition reports indicate will be produced. More definite figures as to the size of the great wheat crop, expected to be the second largest ever gathered, also were given, as well as the first idea of the size of the potato, tobacco and rice crops.

Details of the acreage, condition, on July 1, and indicated acre yield and total production, interpreted from condition reports, of the various crops follow:

Winter wheat: Area planted, 30,533,000 acres, compared with 26,511,000 acres last year. Condition, 73.5 per cent, of a normal, compared with 83.5 per cent on June 1, 73.3 per cent, on July 1, last year, and 79.9 per cent, the 10-year average on July 1. Indicated yield, 15.5 bushels per acre, compared with 15.1 bushels last year and 15.2 bushels, the average for the past five years. Estimated total production, 473,000,000 bushels, compared with 395,000,000 bushels last year, 430,550,000 bushels in 1911, 424,142,000 bushels in 1910 and 418,000,000 bushels in 1909.

Spring wheat: Area planted, 18,663,000 acres, compared with 12,243,000 acres last year. Condition, 73.5 per cent, of a normal, compared with 82.5 per cent on June 1, 83.3 per cent, on July 1, last year and 83.8 per cent, the 10-year average on July 1. ## SWEEPING LOBBY PROBE

Authorized by House Committee Named

WASHINGTON, July 10.—A lobby investigation of extraordinary scope was authorized by the house yesterday, to supplement the senate probe already under way. With the passage of the Henry investigation resolution, a special committee of seven members was immediately appointed by Speaker Clark, with Representative Garrett of Tennessee as chairman. The committee meets today to make plans for the institution of the probe at once.

While the house investigation was prompted largely by the allegations of Colonel M. M. Mulhall regarding the legislative activities of the National Association of Manufacturers, the resolution as finally passed so enlarged the scope of the inquiry that all efforts to control members of the house or to influence legislation by any person or organization will be subject to the inquisitorial power of the committee.

The speaker appointed with Chairman Garrett, Representatives Cline of Indiana, Russell of Missouri, Robertson of Georgia, democrats; Willis of Ohio and Stafford of Wisconsin, republicans, and Representative Nolan of California, progressive.

TEWKSBURY

Mrs. A. L. King is visiting friends in Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patten are sojourning at Hampton beach.

Mr. A. C. Tingley and family have returned from their vacation spent at Plum Island.

Miss Alice Duffey has returned to her home after completing a course of study in Halifax.

Mr. Alden Haines has purchased a new five passenger Reo car and expects to start very soon with his family on a tour of the White Mountains.

A meat market has been opened opposite the "Busy Bee" in the south part of the town and is filling a long felt necessity as heretofore all provisions had to be carried from the center of Wilmington. The new store will be much more convenient for the many people who while away their hours in the camps which are so plentiful in that section of the town.

Little Miss Helen Patten is the proud possessor of a new bicycle which arrived last week. She has now joined the ranks of the campfire girls.

Mr. George Brown and Mr. William Jones are engaged in laying out new paths and walks in the cemetery, as well as trimming the old drives and improving the appearance of the grounds.

Dr. H. M. Larrabee spent the week end with his family at South Portland, Me.

The farmers are all anxious for rain to save their crops, the last two showers passing around the town. Many of them are taking this time to make their hay but the crop does not give promise of being a very large one this year.

The pupils of the Tewksbury Centre Sunday school held their annual outing at Bass Point Tuesday and a very enjoyable day was spent. The young ones, who were in the care of Supt. Watson, made the trip to the seashore in special electric cars. Sports of all descriptions were held and a good dinner was enjoyed.

GRAYS CAME STRONG FROM BEHIND

But Were One Run Shy—Whalers Take Batting Battle by Score of 1.1 to 10

In a game featured by heavy hitting New Bedford took the local team into camp yesterday afternoon at Spaulding park by the score of 11 to 10. New Bedford had to call upon three slappers while Manager Gray was forced to backstop Zeller from the mound in the fourth and send in Maybom to stop John O'Brien's men.

Although poor baseball existed during the early part of the contest the game developed into such a spirited slugfest that the small crowd present left the grounds perfectly satisfied. Lowell outfit the visitors but many of the safes were wasted. The features of the game were the batting of Cawley and the stellar work of Daly behind the bat. Cawley clubbed the ball over left field fence in the eighth when two men occupied positions around the circuit.

First Inning
Sweatt was passed but was out. Daly to Dee when he tried to purloin second. Miller played with Spire's grounder but his fast throw to Halstein clipped the runner at first. Cargo fled out to Clemens.

Crowley threw out Clemens to Kane. Cawley hit a fast one which Cargo did well to knock down. DeGroat singled to center advancing Cawley to second. Magee hit to Cargo at short and DeGroat was retired. Cargo to Crowley and Crowley threw to Kane at first, completing the double play.

Score—New Bedford 6, Lowell 0.

Second Inning
Griffith hit a grounder to Halstein who picked up the ball and slid to first base, and several bats were heaved on to the diamond from the New Bedford bench when Umpire White called Griffith out. Crowley fanned and Kennedy was out Cawley to Kane. The Lowell third baseman making a beautiful stop and throw of Kennedy's hot grounder.

Halstein fled out to Kennedy in deep left field. Miller was thrown out at first by Spire's. Daly was passed. Dee doubled to right field and Daly crossed the plate for the first score of the game. Yates threw out Zeller at first.

Score—New Bedford 6, Lowell 1.

Third Inning
Kane walked. Kilhullen popped one back of first which Miller fumbled; both runners safe. Yates bounced one in front of the plate and both Zeller and Halstein allowed the ball to roll with the result that the bases were filled. With things in this shape, Sweatt poked one to deep left center for a circuit or the bases, sending

THREE VIEWS OF BOEHLING OF WASHINGTON, WHO IS THE SENSATION OF AMERICAN LEAGUE PITCHERS

BOEHLING
PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

The pitching sensation of the season is Joe Boehling of the Washington team. This young left-hander has shown that he is one of the best pitchers that has broken into the big leagues in some time. Right now he is leading all the twirlers in the junior baseball organization in games won with nine straight to his credit. Boehling is the only southpaw with the team. He had always been wild and was not considered much more than an experimental twirler until a month ago. However, Jack Ryan, the old-time backstop, and Nick Altrock, once a star southpaw slapper for the White Sox, continued to work with Boehling. Manager Griffith insisting that the youngster from the Virginia capital had the stuff. Suddenly he showed it in that blistering heat of Cleveland recently the scuffling slinger baffled the heavy hitting Napsiders through seven innings, losing control and strength in the heat after the team was leading

SULZER ATTACKS MAN

New York Executive Gives Detective Scare

ALBANY, July 10.—A man nearly 6 feet tall and weighing close to 130 pounds was yesterday backed up against a building on Eagle street, near Hudson avenue, by Gov. Sulzer and told he would be "thrashed within an inch of his life" if he didn't disappear from Albany immediately.

The man was one of three detectives who, according to the governor's friends have been shadowing Mr. Sulzer on his walks in and about the city during the past two weeks. The sleuths' two pals, who were lurking in the distance when the governor turned on their companion, took to their heels and disappeared down a side street.

Gov. Sulzer was returning from luncheon when he noticed the tallest of the three men dodging his footsteps. He halted suddenly and switched about to face the man, who approached rather timorously.

"Did you want to see me?" asked the governor clenching his fists.

Before the detective could stammer a reply the governor with a quick movement grabbed him by the throat and stood him up against a building, exclaiming as he did so: "I'm sick and tired of being followed by you and a lot of other detectives, and if you don't promise to leave Albany right away I'll thrash you within an inch of your life."

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Glendales would like to arrange a game with the Crimsons or Centrals for July 19. Send all challenges to E. Mosher, 562 Middlesex street, or through this paper.

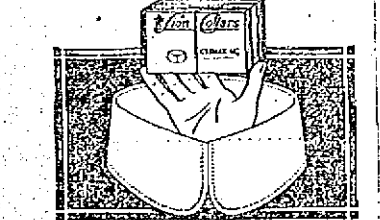

The North common will be the scene of a hard fought baseball game on Saturday between the Willows and the C. Y. M. L. team.

The Young Americans defeated the Riversides by the enormous score of 28 to 18 and would like to play them again and repeat the slaughter. The manager of the Young Americans said that the Riversides were the "punkiest bunch of ball tossers he put a team against" and that if they will play again, he will give them 10 scores to start, just to make the game interesting.

Some of the fast Lawrence amateur clubs are looking for games with the Lowell amateur teams and complain that their challenges are not replied to. These Lawrence teams are notably fast and always put up a good game. Moreover, those we have seen are true sportsmen and it is a treat to observe their conduct in a game. The same may be said of the Lowell teams, also and that in all the more reason why there should be a friendly rivalry and more games between the teams from each city.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

All up, boys, for these three games at Spaulding park with Portland. Hugh Duffy will be here with his Maize team tomorrow and will take part in a double header Saturday.

Andrew was a very lively person yesterday afternoon even if he is out of the game with a bad wheel. His coaching on the third base line was an inspiration to every batter who stepped up to the plate.

Cawley had the best day that he has had since entering the circuit. This boy was considered one of the fastest local infielders and showed speed in every department of the game yesterday.

Rid Your Children of Worms

You can change fretful, ill-tempered children into healthy, happy youngsters by ridding them of worms. Tossing, rolling, grinding of teeth, crying out while asleep, accompanied with intense thirst, pain in the stomach and bowels, feverishness and bad breath, are symptoms that indicate worms. Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant, equally powerful, expels the worms, regulates the bowels, restores your children to health and happiness. Mrs. J. A. Brisson, of Elgin, Ill., says: "I have used Kickapoo Worm Killer for years, and entirely rid my children of worms. I would not be without it." Guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25c. ## STATIONARY ENGINEERS GATHERED

Have Opened State Convention at Lawrence — Big Program for Three Days

The 16th annual convention of the National Association of Stationary Engineers and the New England Association of Commercial Engineers, opened in Lawrence today with delegates present from all parts of New England.

The convention opened at ten o'clock this morning with a mechanical exhibition in the state armory, which will be open until 10 o'clock this evening. In the course of the afternoon addresses were delivered by Albert C. Ashton, president of the New England Association of Commercial Engineers; State President Asa J. Day of Northampton, while the Engineers' orchestra supplied excellent music during intermission.

The program for the remaining two days is as follows:

Friday, July 11th—10.30 a. m.—Opening of convention at city hall. R. N. Howard, chairman.

Address by Hon. M. F. Scanlon.

Address by Nat'l Vice-President James R. Cor, New York City.

Address by Hon. F. N. Chandler.

Music by the Engineers' Orchestra.

Address by Past Nat'l President Theodore N. Kelsey, Lowell.

Address by Past State President Edw. H. Kearney, Boston.

Address by Past State President James H. Sumner, Cambridge.

Saturday, July 12th:

8.00 a. m.—Sharp—Auto ride around Lawrence, starting from the Franklin house at eight.

9.30 a. m.—Lecture and pictures in Nichols theatre, Lawrence street, by Mr. Elmer Smith of the General Electric Co. Subject—"Steam Turbines."

11.00 a. m.—Take special cars at Essex and Hampshire streets for Canabola lake.

12.00 m.—Baseball at the park—Operating engineers vs. Commercial engineers. Umpires Teddy and Fitz.

2.00 p. m.—Banquet at City Hall. During the convention all the mills of the American Woolen Co. are open to visitors.

The Lowell delegates attending the convention are as follows:

T. N. Kelsey, A. L. Coggins, Frank Dodge, William Sargent, J. F. Moulton, T. F. Gibson, Henry Devine, J. H. Duffy and M. H. Hettlerman.

The committee on arrangements consists of the following:

Chairman: A. W. Naylor, secretary: J. E. Gibbons, H. W. Ingham and J. Pratt.

The committee for the Commercial Engineers is composed of the following:

Chairman: C. D. Allen, chairman: P. H. Hogan, M. J. Danaher, R. F. Pickles and U. H. Nickerson.

The National Association of Stationary Engineers was organized in New York city on October 25, 1882, for the purpose of uniting the educational and social contacts of competent engineers.

At present there are about 30,000 members in the organization and they stretch over every state in the union.

The last convention was held in Kansas city when John McGrath of Chicago, the national vice president, presided in the absence of President H. Kearney.

The Massachusetts state association was organized in Fall River in July, 1896, with the special object of carrying on educational work in the state.

There are about 200 members in the state association and its last convention was held at Northampton, with President J. H. Sumner presiding.

John T. Maloney of Fall River is president of the New England association which was organized at Northampton in July, 1912. The object of this association is to help the smaller states along educational lines and the present membership exceeds 3000 in six states.

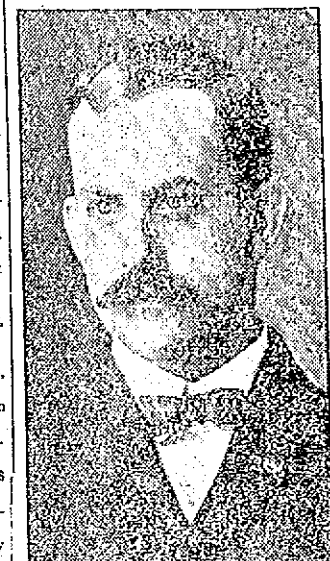

The national Association Stationary Engineers' organization is based upon the following objects: The better education of its members in the art and science of steam engineering; to protect the interests of competent engineers in their vocation; to enroll all competent engineers in this organization; to furnish information beneficial to the trade; assisting members out of employment to obtain the same; to procure by legal enactment greater safety in the operation of steam plants.

The preamble of the organization is as follows: "This association shall at no time be used for the furtherance of strikes or for the purpose of interfering in any way between its members and their employers in respect to wages; recognizing the identity of interests between employer and employee, not countenancing any project or enterprise that will interfere with perfect harmony between them.

"Neither shall it be used for political or religious purposes. Its meetings shall be devoted to business of the association and at all times preference shall be given to the education of engineers, and to securing of the enactment of engineers' license laws in order to prevent the destruction of life and property in the generation and transmission of steam as a motive power."

The past national presidents of the association are as follows: Henry D. Cozens, Providence, 1883; James G. Beckerleg, Chicago, 1884-5; R. J. Fitzpatrick, Bridgeport, 1886; Frank A. Foster, Boston, 1887; George M. Barker, New York, 1888; R. O. Smith, Cincinnati, 1889; John Fehrenbach, Utica, 1890; John F. Hingsworth, Cleveland, 1891; William Powell, Cleveland, 1892;

ELECTRIC CARS COLLIDE

Slight Mishap on the Bridge Street Line This Afternoon—Employees Injured

An electric car collision occurred this afternoon on the Bridge Street line of the Bay State Street Railway Co. when two cars crashed into each other at the end of the double track between Willard street and the Yellow Meeting house. One of the cars, it is said, was put out of commission, while one of the employees on the car was slightly injured.

On account of not being able to make good time for the Boston line, which is a part of the Dracut Centre line, a spare car is kept at the end of the Bridge street line and runs from the end of the double track to the Centre. This afternoon this spare car ran into the open switch and struck the regular car. The spare car was put out of commission, and soon the officials of the company had another car on the scene, which towed the spare car to the end of the line, where it remained the rest of the afternoon. The regular car was slightly damaged, while one of the employees, either a conductor or a motorman, was slightly injured about the legs.

Reply to Japanese Note

WASHINGTON, July 10.—After a conference of an hour and a quarter with Ambassador Chinca, Secretary Bryan today announced that the despatch of the reply to the two latest Japanese notes on the California and alien land law might be deferred until next week. Mr. Bryan before the conference had said he expected to make the reply by the end of this week. No reason for the change was given.

Car Off Schedule Time

Owing to the fact that a Gorham street car was away off schedule today, many people were late for their work. The car due to arrive in Merrimack square at 12.53, did not show up, and those who frequently return to the city at that time did not arrive at the terminal until 12.45 o'clock. All along the line, passengers who are supposed to be back at work around 12.50 were obliged to wait until the 12.45 car came along and considerable criticism and unfavorable comment was heard from the dissatisfied travelers.

be employed at work performed for wage or other compensation, to whomsoever payable, during the hours when the public schools are in session, or shall be employed at work before 6.30 in the morning or after 6 o'clock in the evening.

Minors Under 16

Referring to minors under 16 years of age this act, in another section, prohibits their employment in the operation of the following machines: Circular or band saws, wood shapers, wood planers, planers, picker machines or machines used in picking wool, cotton, hair or any other material, paper-lace machines, leather burnishing machines, job or cylinder printing presses operated by power other than foot power, stamping machines used in sheet metal and tinware or in paper or leather manufacturing or in washer or nut machines, metal or paper cutting machines, corner styling machines in paper box factories, corrugated rolls, such as are used in corrugated paper or in roofing or wash board factories, steam boilers, dough bricks or cracker machinery of any description, rolling mill machinery, wire or iron straightening or drawing machinery, power planers or shears, washing or grinding machinery, calendar machinery, rolls in paper and rubber manufacturing or other heavy rolls driven by power, laundering machinery, upon or in connection with any dangerous electrical machinery or appliances.

Boys Are Barred

Section 3 is explicit as follows: "No minor under 16 years of age shall be employed or permitted to work in any capacity in adjusting, or assisting in adjusting any hazardous belt to any machinery, or in oiling or cleaning hazardous machinery or in proximity to any hazardous or unguarded belts, machinery or gearing while such machinery or gearing is in motion; nor on scaffolding; nor in heavy work in the building trades; nor in stripping, assorting, manufacturing or packing tobacco; nor in any tunnel; nor in a public bowling alley; nor in a pool or billiard room."

Section 11 specifies that no boy under 12 years of age and no girl under 15 years old shall in any city having a population over 50,000 inhabitants, sell, expose or offer for sale any newspapers, magazines, periodicals, or any other articles of merchandise of any description, or exercise the trade of bootblack or scavenger, or any other trade, in any street or public way.

The Penalties Attached

The penalties for failure or neglect to comply with the laws as aforesaid are contained in Section 20, as follows: Any person who, whether by himself or for others, or through agents, servants or foremen employs, induces or permits any minor to work contrary to any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, for a first offense, be punished by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50, or by imprisonment for not more than three days, or by such a fine and imprisonment; and for a second and subsequent offense, by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $200, or by imprisonment for not more than 60 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

As to methods to be used by the state in determining whether or not the law is enforced the act states: "The inspectors of the state board of labor and industries shall visit and inspect the places of employment mentioned in the act and shall ascertain whether any minors are employed therein contrary to the provisions of the act, and shall prosecute violations thereof. They shall report to the school authorities any cases of children under 16 years of age discharged for illegal employment. Any person shall have the right to prosecute violations of this act."

After considerable business concerning plans to have the French speaking people naturalized, the committee adjourned until next Wednesday evening, when a meeting will be held at the rooms of the Citizens-Americans club in Dutton street.

COLUMBUS WINDOWLESS

Terrific Rain and Hail Storm Sweeps Ohio City and County, Ruling Crops

COLUMBUS, O., July 10.—A terrific rain and hail storm swept parts of Columbus and Franklin county yesterday afternoon, breaking plate glass windows by the hundreds.

Every glass was broken in many greenhouses, one concern alone suffering a loss of $25,000 on the South Side.

In that locality hail stones as large as walnuts were shoveled up after the rain, which lasted less than 10 minutes.

Fruit trees were stripped bare and truck farms were short of growing crops.

"Battling" Nelson Sues For $10,000

BOSTON, July 10.—Oscar Matthew Nelson, known to the sporting fraternity as "Battling" Nelson, has brought suit for $10,000 against the Ridgeway Construction company of Revere.

The pugilist in his declaration declares he was ejected on Wednesday, June 4, from a place of amusement at Revere Beach with such force as to sustain physical injury, and he has suffered mental anguish as such humiliation was witnessed by thousands of spectators in and about the Nautical Gardens.

GUILTY OF NEGLIGENCE

Continued

Report of Investigation

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The findings of the Interstate commerce commission which investigated the Stamford, Conn., railroad wreck recently were given out today.

The general conclusions written by Commissioner McChord include the following statement:

"Establishment of safer and more efficient operation of this railroad is immediately necessary if congressional legislation extending the scope of governmental regulation of railroads is not to be called for and justified in the interests of public safety."

"The report declares the whole evidence justifies the following conclusions:

"The engineer of second number 53 (the wrecked train, Engineer Doherty) did not have the special experience and instruction required for the operation of such a train."

"The New York, New Haven & Hartford railway company had no reliable method for determining the capacity of engineers before placing them in charge of high speed passenger trains."

"Road Negligent"

"There was negligence on the part of the corporation in putting in charge of such a train as second number 53 an inexperienced and untrained engineer in this class of work."

"This railroad has no proper system of checking work reports so as to determine whether or not defects reported on locomotives are actually repaired."

"The lack of supervision is dangerous and it ought not to be permitted to continue."

"The distant signal at Stamford is too near the home signal and should be at least 2500 feet distant therefrom."

"Modern steel equipment for high speed passenger trains should be installed at the earliest possible time as recommended in previous reports of this commission and legislation fixing such a time should be enacted without delay."

Commissioner McChord's report reviews exhaustively the evidence developed at hearings and at a coroner's inquest and says in part:

Blames Engineer

"The direct cause of this accident was the failure of the engineer on second number 53 to apply the air-brakes in time to stop his train before reaching the home signal. This failure was the result of an error in judgment on the part of the engineer due to his lack of experience in handling high speed passenger trains and the absence of instructions regarding the proper method of handling his train."

"The responsibility for placing an inexperienced and untrained engineer in charge of a high speed passenger train rests with the operating officers of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co."

Improper Location of Signal

"Contributing causes of the accident were the improper location of the distant signal at Stamford and the fact that the train brakes were not as efficient as the requirements of safety demanded on a train of this character."

"The effort to place blame for this accident upon the engineer's working agreement with this railroad, attention is called to the rules laid down in that agreement."

Rule 1 of article 9—Spare engineers shall be run first in and last out so far as it is possible, and in the regular service and when engineers are assigned to temporary vacancies they shall remain on same provided they are competent until the regular engineer returns. They shall receive rates of regular engineers while on the road.

Rule 1 as amended exception C—No engineer who has less than one year's railroad experience rating as an engineer shall be allowed to run through passenger trains.

"This rule has two plain and definite exceptions:

1.—So far as it is possible with the requirements of the service, and

2.—Provided the engineer is competent."

"Primarily the determination of (1) the requirements of the service is the safety requirement."

"In this case it is shown that no reliable or effective system was in operation."

Neglect of Precaution

"The neglect of precautions for safety was here a neglect upon points which the engineer's agreement left open to the management."

"The mere absence of demerit marks while in freight service was considered a good record, sufficiently determined to justify employment on fast passenger trains, a class of service requiring the highest degree of qualification. No determination of special qualification for higher grade of service was made. The agreement with the engineer in no manner restrict examination or competency tests on the part of the management."

"The absence of all competency tests of this engineer is a matter for which the management is solely responsible. Its good judgment in bringing an express passenger train to a stop ought not to have been tried out at the risk of passengers' lives."

"When in handling a first class passenger train this engineer on his first trip went by a station and reported it was due to the brakes being no good it is strange that no one in authority then saw any necessity for a test either of the man or of the brakes before he was again sent out in the same line of service."

"The general manager, however, reached the conclusion that there was no suspicion that he was not in all respects capable when this engineer was assigned to this high class train. This conclusion was in no respect justified by the facts."

Should Test Engineers

"Even though Doherty's work in other grades of service was satisfactory the absence of any supervision or tests for a work in which his failure was so complete and disastrous cannot be excused by the officials of this railroad."

"The safety of the public requires that these officers shall take all reasonable precautions by test and supervision to know that such men have the positive qualifications of good judgment and knowledge of their duty."

"Other railroads have rules providing safeguards in this respect, as was shown by the testimony of the railroad experts. The general manager said that the judgment of the engineer was had, 'unjustifiably bad' and after describing his version of Doherty's handling of this train he said:

"I cannot conceive of any man in his right mind doing a thing of that kind. He then stated in general terms his belief that the trouble arose from the employees' organization and the attitude of the public and said: 'It is true of the New England railroads today they have not much left but their corporate identity.'"

No organization but that of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co. is responsible for placing a man in charge of this locomotive without tests or supervision by traveling engineers of his qualifications and judgment for this special work. The determination of the ability, fitness or qualifications of an engineer is the duty of the railroad itself. It was not delegated to any other organization nor could it be so delegated. It was neither delegated nor performed. It was neglected. It was unwarrantably assumed that a man at the head of the list of spare engineers was qualified without any special consideration of the character of the service in which he had experience. Something is 'out of gear' on a railroad where high class trains may be given over to an untrained engineer. And this is true even if he is sent out on a run with the caution of his superior of 'Don't let it get away from you.' Here was doubt from the man who ought to know."

Corporate Responsibility

"The responsibility for having a competent man with positive qualifications at a post of duty is a corporate responsibility. The fault for placing an untested man in a position fraught with danger to life is the fault of the company and its officials. 'Man' is a word which means a man, and his officials where the man has been properly tested and found to possess the positive qualifications required. No automatic working of names from a list of men who may or may not have the requisite qualifications cannot compensate for the duty of making reasonable effort to ascertain that the man selected is qualified."

JUDGMENT AND KNOWLEDGE OF THEIR DUTY

"Other railroads have rules providing safeguards in this respect, as was shown by the testimony of the railroad experts. The general manager said that the judgment of the engineer was had, 'unjustifiably bad' and after describing his version of Doherty's handling of this train he said:

"I cannot conceive of any man in his right mind doing a thing of that kind. He then stated in general terms his belief that the trouble arose from the employees' organization and the attitude of the public and said: 'It is true of the New England railroads today they have not much left but their corporate identity.'"

No organization but that of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co. is responsible for placing a man in charge of this locomotive without tests or supervision by traveling engineers of his qualifications and judgment for this special work. The determination of the ability, fitness or qualifications of an engineer is the duty of the railroad itself. It was not delegated to any other organization nor could it be so delegated. It was neither delegated nor performed. It was neglected. It was unwarrantably assumed that a man at the head of the list of spare engineers was qualified without any special consideration of the character of the service in which he had experience. Something is 'out of gear' on a railroad where high class trains may be given over to an untrained engineer. And this is true even if he is sent out on a run with the caution of his superior of 'Don't let it get away from you.' Here was doubt from the man who ought to know."

Corporate Responsibility

"The responsibility for having a competent man with positive qualifications at a post of duty is a corporate responsibility. The fault for placing an untested man in a position fraught with danger to life is the fault of the company and its officials. 'Man' is a word which means a man, and his officials where the man has been properly tested and found to possess the positive qualifications required. No automatic working of names from a list of men who may or may not have the requisite qualifications cannot compensate for the duty of making reasonable effort to ascertain that the man selected is qualified."

There is no evidence which raises any doubt that for the work he had previously been engaged upon Doherty was competent, reliable and trustworthy. His reputation and record were good. But when he was placed in charge of a new engine attached to one of the fastest passenger trains some one in authority signally failed in duty in entrusting such an engine and train to his charge without any test of his capacity for this grave responsibility."

No Practical Tests Applied

"It seems hard to realize that no practical tests were applied to such a situation on this railroad and that there was no supervision by traveling engineers over an engineer called upon for the first time to take up a class of work calling for the highest qualifications."

This investigation discloses there was no rule of this subject.

"It is but fair, however, to say for the present general manager that his connection with this road is recent and that his efforts for the promotion of safety during the short time he has been in charge encourages the hope that he may succeed in placing it on a safer operating basis."

No Instruction to Engineer

"It appears that no instructions were given Doherty assigning a point at which a change of power was to be made, whether at Stamford station or a point about 2000 feet east of Stamford station, where the collision occurred."

"It is claimed by the railroad that this does not have any bearing upon the cause of the collision, but such an important point ought not to have been left indefinite when a new man was in charge of the second section of this train. The second section left New Haven four minutes after the first section, which was scheduled for a five minute stop at Stamford. The three minute stop at Stamford and no instructions appeared showing that the first section was to stop east of Stamford for the purpose of changing power."

No chance or possibility for any misunderstanding on this subject ought to have been kept open. The change of power should have been at one definitely fixed place."

No Place to Experiment

"Trains running in two sections on very nearly the same time calls for special official supervision. Especially is the position of the engineer of the second section one of the highest responsibility. A man for such a position should be one tested by long experience and qualified by instructions of superiors for the ordeal of this special work. This was no place to try out an engineer of limited service."

Any system under which this is permissible or possible is a loose system. It is indefensible."

Air Pump Erratic

"After the accident several tests were made on the brakes both on the engine and on the cars. It was found that the governor to the air pump on the engine was erratic in its action and would occasionally stop, the pump requiring a slight tapping to start it to work and enable the pump to operate. Outside of this erratic operation of the pump governor the brakes were found in good condition."

"In examining the brakes of the train it was found that the piston travel on the cars was not uniform and on one car having the latest form of passenger equipment the brake did not respond to an ordinary service application. On a standing test it required a reduction of at least 20 pounds of air to set the brake upon this car, and upon another occasion it required a reduction of between 30 and 40 pounds of air."

"This indicated that the brake on this car would not apply except with an emergency application."

Two break-in-two tests were made to see at what distance the train could be stopped separately from the engine. It is to show the gap between the train and the engine. The time in stopping the engine was 27 seconds and the time in which the train was stopped was 23.4 seconds. This indicated a very good brake on the engine. The train brakes, however, were not as good as they should have been."

PRES. MELLEEN WOULD MAKE NO STATEMENT ON INTERSTATE COMMERCE REPORT

NEW HAVEN, July 10.—It was announced at the offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad today that President Mellen would have no statement regarding the report of the interstate commerce commission until after the report had been canvassed by the executive committee which meets on July 11.

"It will depend upon the disposition of the committee whether a reply will be made after the meeting," the announcement read.

ANNA GOULD CASE AGAIN

New Trial Ordered by Rota Tribunal

ROME, July 10.—The Rota tribunal of the Rota, acting as a court of appeals, has reversed the judgment of the lower court in the case of the invalidation of his marriage to Anna Gould and has ordered a new trial.

MORE OFFICIALS RESIGN

Pittsburgh Bank Condition Normal Today

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—Further resignations of J. S. and W. S. Kuhn from connection with financial interests were announced today. Both the men who held the majority of stock of the First-Second National bank, which was closed by the deputy controller of the currency Monday removed themselves from the directorate of the Colonial Trust company of this city and W. S. Kuhn took like action with respect to the board of the Commonwealth Trust Co.</

Street Ry. Co. Would Straighten Lines —Its Future Possibilities and Possible Change of Location

The petition of the local street railway company to cut five feet off the apex of Varnum park has aroused a storm of protest from the people of Centralville as this is the only real park provided to appeal to their aesthetic susceptibilities. It is intended as a beauty spot not to be invaded by the steps of young or old, for it is so tightly locked up that the city employees when calling once every summer to cut the grass have to climb over the iron fence.

There is a piece of shrubbery of some kind in the centre but although it has been there for years, according to all accounts, it has thus far shown no sign of efflorescence.

The question might be asked, Why raise such a hubbalooboo over cutting a slice off this little park anyhow? Ah! my friend, there is a reason and one that appeals very strongly to the people of Centralville and even more so to the people of Dracut because it was originally laid out, named and instituted so to speak in honor of the Varnums, who have seen the beginning of things in Dracut and who are still unwilling to be blotted from the map, if we are to judge from the opposition to the further dissection and disfigurement of Varnum park.

That park was originally laid out in the form of a "V" for Varnum and the park department for a time had the centre of it marked by a floral V made of tulips or other more lasting flowers. That custom, it seems, became too expensive and a central piece of shrubbery was substituted. The idea of Daniel H. Varnum, by whom it was named, was "founded," was that at some future day a statue of some member of the Varnum family, preferably one of himself, should adorn that park. Recently the Varnum school was presented historic paintings of General Varnum, and Sheriff Varnum of Middlesex county. The latter a man who also figured largely in state and government affairs. Varnum park with a statue of General Varnum would indeed be a greater attraction than it is today but as the general was a big man if his statue were erected in the centre of the park and if from any cause it were knocked from the pedestal, it would be quite likely to fall over the fence into the river, a tragedy that would become more probable if the park were further reduced in area through the demands of the street railway company.

The park from First street to the Merrimack river abuts a public landing and no doubt the people of Centralville in their collecting for this park look forward to the time when the river will be navigable and when they can assemble on this park and watch the steamers come in from New York and Boston.

There are people in Centralville who would have this park held intact as the site of a future custom house to be occupied by one of the Varnums as collector of the port of Lowell. It is true that the collector, particularly if he happened to be fat footed, might need more space in which to turn around, but there is plenty of room skyward and if we are to rival Boston or New York we must have skyscrapers. The chief thing wonderful about Varnum park is how the city ever managed to get even 70 feet of the river bank away from the Locks and Canals Company, whose "riparian rights," surreptitiously secured from the legislature when Lowell was in swaddling clothes, are still maintained to the detriment of the community but to the great financial profit of this conglomerate land and water grabbing corporation.

While we are waiting for the custom house, the park might be beautified by the electric fountain suggested by Mrs. Frye, the beautiful iridescent luminosity of which would make the park a real central attraction. Varnum park has a frontage of 70 feet on the river, 56 feet on Bridge street and 14 feet on First street. If we are to exclude the boulevard, it is the only river front park in the city. It has an area of 115 square yards, so that in justice we may say the size is limited.

There was a dispute among residents of Centralville as to whether it formed an isosceles or a right-angled triangle and it required City Engineer Kearney with his theodolite to decide the question with mathematical precision. He discovered that the park instead of being "V" shaped or triangular is in reality a quadrilateral of irregular outline. Should the petition of the street railway be granted the curved base would be somewhat straightened while the centre would then be moved nearer to the river, but as the park is held inaccessible to the public and maintained only as an ornament the street railway company claims that by thus straightening the boundary line of the park, it will be more in harmony with the character of the Varnum family, none of whom were known as "crooked." The railroad company, we understand, has in view a great many improvements of this kind.

But the people of Centralville are still obtuse and they would rather have the park moved to a different locality than have one of it lopped off to accommodate the street railway company. It is said they have consulted Jim Hickey, the building mover, who after looking the park over, expressed the opinion that he could float it down the river to Indian orchard, or move it out to the Dracut line and place it in some back yard where the street railway company couldn't touch it.

FIRE IN LUMBER YARD

Caused Loss of $20,000 in Boston

BOSTON, July 10.—A two-alarm fire yesterday which started from sparks from a hoisting engine on the Suffolk Coal company wharf on Border street, East Boston, brought the two fire boats and the East Boston apparatus and an engine from Chelsea which quickly got the fire under control.

The fire started in the lumber yard of P. S. Hurlins company, 154 Border street, and spread through several piles of hard pine lumber and gained such headway that a second alarm was sounded.

The blaze was discovered by several of the employees of the lumber company and had apparently started in a pile of boards at one end of the yard and quickly jumped to the piles of heavy lumber. The heaviest loss by the fire is the Hurlins company, which figures their loss at $20,000.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

Has Begun to Investigate Industrial Conditions

AS AFFECTING WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Representative Achin of Lowell a Member of the Committee—Hearings to be Held

The special committee of the legislature of which Rep. Henry Achin, Jr., of Lowell, is a member, began its investigation of the employment of women and children in the commonwealth, having been authorized by the house of representatives. The committee organized yesterday and elected Grover C. Hoyt of the State House News service as secretary. It also arranged for a series of public hearings. The first hearing is to be held on Friday when it is hoped to have present Chief Johannes H. Whitman of the district police with several of his inspectors who will explain the existing laws regarding the employment of women and children as well as the penalty. This is an important hearing, for there is at present practically no authority in the state for the enforcement of the labor laws. The authority of the district police and state board of health has been transferred to the new board by the act providing for its institution.

1,323,199,508 STAMPS

Reserve Supply Ordered by Postmaster General

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Postoffice inspectors have just completed counting more than one billion postage stamps in the bureau of engraving and printing. In exact figures the number that passed under the hands of the busy officers was 1,323,199,508. The stamps have a face value of $30,153,121.72 and they constitute the reserve supply ordered some time ago by Postmaster General Burleson.

The inspectors descended on the bureau without warning with the intention of testing thoroughly the checking system employed between the department and the bureau. At the expiration of the eight days' work the officers discovered that the count tallied exactly with the department's record.

FITCHBURG TAX RATE UP

Increases 40 Cents Per $1000

FITCHBURG, July 10.—The tax rate for 1913, according to figures given out by the board of assessors last night, will be $20 per $1000 of property. The 1912 rate is the second highest the city has had, and is an increase of 40 cents over the rate of last year. The highest rate was in 1903.

An increase in the state tax amounting to some $11,428, an increase in the amount of sewage disposal bonds of $5000, the $15,500 municipal loan and an increase of some $16,500 in departmental appropriations are given as the reasons for the increase in the tax rate.

The records of the assessors show an increase of $1,347,500 in valuation of new real estate and improved property.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Amille

The beauty detracting fuzzy growths on lip, chin or cheek quickly vanish when delatone is used. A paste sufficient to cover the objectionable hairs is made with powdered delatone and water. This paste should be left on for about two minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed to remove the remaining delatone. A single treatment will rid the face of hair or fuzz and leaves the skin free from spot or blemish.

A wonderfully soothing and cooling lotion for the face can be made at home for a trifle by dissolving an original package mayatone in one-half pint water. This applied to the face, neck and arms then gently massaged in gives to the skin a wholesome purity impossible to attain with powder or greasy creams. The mayatone lotion will improve the finest complexion. It dispels the oily, shiny appearance and is especially pleasing to use for freckles or tan. One application will last an entire day and the lotion cleanses so nicely with the skin that it is not noticeable to the closest observer.

BLAME NEW HAVEN FOR DISASTER

LOWELL WON GAME FROM NEW BEDFORD

Exciting Contest at Spaulding Park This Afternoon—Score Lowell 5, New Bedford 2

After having engaged in an unusual cloutfest here yesterday in which the ball was terribly abused, and in which Lowell made a strong bid for a sensational finish, the Speed Boys and the Whalers again greeted each other this afternoon at the Spaulding Park battlefield. The showers which at first appeared to foretell a postponed game, passed along after having laid the dust on the diamond and left a few small puddles and mud spots near the platons to facilitate base sliding.

Henderson stepped upon the mound for the home team at the opening of the game and Collins opposed him for the guests. The arbiter was White. The lineup:

New Bedford
Sweet, cf
Spies, 2b
Cargy, 3b
Griffith, rf
Crowley, 1b
Kennedy, lf
Kane, 1b
Kilhullen, c
Collins, p

Lowell
Clemens, cf
3b, Cargy
1b, DeGroat
H. Magee
1b, Halstein
2b, Miller
c, Daly ss, Dee p, Henderson

First Inning
Sweet opened by striking out. Cargy speared Spies' liner near his feet. Cargy rolled an easy grounder to Henderson who threw him out to Halstein.

Clemens drove a high one to center field which Sweet collected without moving from his tracks. Kennedy caught Cargy's long fly to left after a hard run. Collins singled to left but DeGroat was put away trying to steal second, the play going Kilhullen to Crowley.

Second Inning
Griffith got the first hit of the game, a single to center field. Crowley hit to Cargy who threw to Miller forcing Griffith out at second. Kennedy singled to center. Kane batted the ball to the center field fence and only fast holding by Clemens held him at third. Crowley crossed the plate for the first score of the game. Kilhullen fanned.

Magee flied out to Kane near the first base line. Halstein was thrown out at first by Collins. Miller singled to left. He tried to steal second and was out Kilhullen to Crowley.

Third Inning
Collins fanned and Henderson also retired. Sweet, in a similar manner, Spies got a single to center field. Henderson caught Spies off first and Miller and Halstein doubled the runner up between them. Halstein making the put-out.

Cargy threw out Daly at first. Cargy caught a line from Dee's bat. Henderson going along on the error. Crowley was put away at first by Spies.

STAMFORD WRECK REPORT

Scathing Arraignment of Officials for Placing Inexperienced Engineer in Charge of Express Train

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Engineer Doherty's inexperience in handling high speed passenger trains was the principal cause of the New York, New Haven & Hartford wreck at Stamford, Conn., on June 12th, in which six passengers were killed and 20 injured. The inter-state commerce commission's report of its investigation of the accident made public today, so holds and adds that the responsibility for placing an "inexperienced and uninstructed" engineman in charge of a high speed passenger train rests with the operating officers of the railroad.

The engine brakes, tests seem to indicate, were good; the train brakes not as efficient as safety demanded in such a fast train but the home and distant signals at Stamford were held to be too close together. Doherty's inexperience and lack of instruction, the commission holds, were responsible for his failure to apply the brakes in time to stop the train before the danger signal set against him.

JOHNSON SAYS HE'LL NEVER COME BACK

HAVRE, July 10.—Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist, arrived here today on board the Corinthian and immediately on landing announced his determination never to return to the United States. He said he would in the future take up his residence in Paris.

THREATENED TO END HER LIFE IN LAKE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 10.—Scores of letters that passed between Alice Crispell, the 18-year-old daughter of a farmer whose body was found in Harvey's lake last Monday, and Herbert Johns, the mine worker who is under arrest here charged with her death, have been made public by county detectives working on the case. All the letters are filled with love sentiments and some of them show that the girl and Johns had their troubles.

SUIT FOR SHARE OF $7,000,000

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 10.—Theodore Frothingham, a son of a former lieutenant governor of Massachusetts and several other New York and New England relatives of Abel Stearns, a California pioneer, have begun suit for a portion of the $7,000,000 estate left by Mrs. Arcadia De Baker, who was known as the richest woman in southern California.

KEEP BOYS UNDER 16 OUT OF POOL ROOMS

Very Sweeping Child Labor Law Recently Passed by Massachusetts Legislature

One of the most sweeping child labor laws ever passed by the Massachusetts legislature is contained in an act regulating the labor of minors, a copy of which has been received by the city clerk. The act, as amended, was approved about three weeks ago and it will be of special interest to owners and managers of bowling alleys, pool and billiard rooms, inasmuch as it states that no minor under 16 years of age shall be employed there. The act in its introduction mentions the various employments which cannot be engaged in by minors under 14 years of age. These are: factory, workshop, manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishments, barber shops, bootblack stands or establishments, public stable, garage, brick or lumber yard, telephone exchange, telegraph or messenger office or in the construction or repair of buildings, or in any contract or wage earning industry carried on in tenement or other houses. No minor under 14 years of age shall be employed in any of these employments which cannot be engaged in by minors under 14 years of age. ## INSPECTS LAWRENCE BATHHOUSE

Judge Mahoney Makes Personal Investigation After Inquest and Will Report Later

LAWRENCE, July 10.—Following the conclusion of the inquest this morning on the municipal bathhouse fatality of last week when eleven boys were drowned, Judge J. J. Mahoney made a personal inspection of the bathhouse and will report later.

MULHALL A WITNESS

Investigation of Lobby Charges Opens

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Martin Mulhall, confessed lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, probably will be the first witness before the house lobby committee which met today and made preliminary plans for its investigation, which probably will begin Monday.

EX-WARDEN IS INDICTED

Charges Against Sing Sing Head Withheld

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 10.—John Kennedy, former warden of Sing Sing prison, was indicted today by the Westchester county grand jury. The charges contained in the indictment were withheld by the authorities with the explanation that they would not be made public until the arrest of Kennedy, who was said to be at Port Henry.

MAN KILLED, SONS HURT

Trolley Car Struck an Automobile

OMAHA, Neb., July 10.—William Rochford, a prominent contractor, was killed today and his two sons, William, Jr., and Ector were seriously injured when a trolley car struck their automobile.

FARNSWORTH IS FREE

Wife Carries Pardon to Cripple Husband

PLYMOUTH, July 10.—David D. Farnsworth of Bridgewater, who has served 17 days of a six months' sentence for manslaughter, hobbled on his crutches through the great iron doorway of the Plymouth county jail yesterday into the waiting arms of his wife, a free man.

The pardon that permitted him to walk forth from the walls of iron and stone was brought to Plymouth by

Mrs. Farnsworth, who delivered it in person to Sheriff Porter. Then came the meeting of husband and wife, so full of joy and yet so pathetic, that even bluff Sheriff Porter, used to scenes of the kind, turned away from the crippled man and his slight little wife.

From that time until the Farnsworth home was reached in Bridgewater the man who had been set free by pardon granted in record-breaking time by the governor and full council was showered on all sides with congratulations. The climax came, however, when the modest home was reached and the doc. Gyp, who mourned and refused to be comforted for days and days after his master had been sent away, jumped all over him with staccato barks of delight.

BIRD OUT FOR GOVERNOR

Feels it is His Duty to Serve Party

BOSTON, July 10.—Declaring that he believed it to be his duty to serve the progressive party this year, Charles Sumner Bird last night announced that he had authorized the placing of his nomination as a progressive ticket.

In his announcement Mr. Bird said that he would rather work in the ranks than as a candidate for office, but as he owes the progressive cause more than it owes him he had decided to become a candidate for governor.

He emphasized what he claims are two important political issues—a more centralized form of government for the state and a law compelling an investigation with a report on all facts before a strike or lockout could occur. He says that the industrial situation in spots is little short of anarchy.

McCombs Improving
PARIS, July 10.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee continues to make excellent progress toward recovery from the effects of the operation for appendicitis performed on him on Tuesday.

FINAL DRAFT OF TARIFF

Republicans Say Courts Will Settle Questions

WASHINGTON, July 10.—If the tariff revision bill becomes a law as it has been passed upon by the senate, democratic caucus, many of its provisions will be tied up in the courts for interpretation. In the opinion of republican senate leaders, the Smoot, republican member of the finance committee, declared yesterday that the change in the phraseology and classifications in the bill are such that it would take four years of court procedure to settle just what they mean and that revenues in the meantime would be held up.

The democratic senators, in view of the failure of the caucus to pass a stringent binding resolution, are going to be permitted to vote for amendments to the wool and sugar schedules, is another claim made yesterday by the republicans. They expressed the belief that amendments will pass the senate cutting out free raw wool and free sugar, but that the house conferees would yield and that all the democrats finally would approve the conference report. The final draft of the Underwood-Simmons bill was completed last night by majority members of the finance committee and sent to the printer.

ELKS' NEW HOME
Grand Lodge Accepts $360,000 Bid of Salt Lake City Contractor for New National Home

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 10.—The Grand Lodge of Elks in 49th reunion accepted the $360,000 bid of a Salt Lake City contractor and will build a new national home. Whether the home shall be on the site of the present home in Bedford, Va., or elsewhere rests with the national home commission of which Harry Herrmann of Cincinnati is chairman. A per capita tax of 25 cents will be levied on the members of subordinate lodges, giving approximately $165,000 to apply on the cost of the new home.

Charles A. White of Chicago was elected treasurer of the grand lodge.

SCHOOL JANITORS' CONVENTION SEIZE 3000 PINTS OF WHISKEY ROOSEVELT GOES WEST TEETH MARKS ON BODY 500 PERSONS ISOLATED

Lowell Men Elected to Office—Expert Gave Address on Heating and Ventilating

There were about 35 Lowell members present at the convention in Lawrence, yesterday of the Massachusetts Association of School Janitors. The convention was held in Mule Spinnery hall. The Lowell delegates were J. H. Dane, John O'Connor, John Palm, Dennis Harrington, James Hounsell, Patrick Mahoney, and John Toy.

The convention was a very large and interesting one. There being present about 150 school janitors from various parts of the state. A large number of Lowell members who were not delegates, went to the down river city to attend.

Thomas Keegan, of the Butler school of this city, was unanimously re-elected state president. J. H. Dane of the Bartlett school, Lowell, resigned his the interest taken in bettering the schools and in forming so strong an organization. Patrick Downing, a Boston expert, delivered a lecture on the methods and improvements in heating and ventilating of schools and this was of great interest and importance to the janitors.

The banquet was the concluding feature and the convention was a marked success in every way.

Maine Sheriff Smells Booze on Auto and Arrests Men for Illegal Transportation

LEWISTON, Me., July 10.—The difficulties of transporting intoxicating liquors into Maine for illegal sale since the passage of the Webb law to prevent the shipment of liquors into prohibition states and the more strict enforcement of the Maine prohibitory law was demonstrated by the sheriff late last night at Wales, when a big motor truck and its contents was seized by Sheriff Fred E. Stevens.

The truck contained 70 boxes in which were packed nearly 3000 pints of whiskey, which were being transported from Boston to Augusta, the state capital. It was said to be the largest seizure ever made in Androscoggin county.

The boxes were cleverly concealed by furniture, carpets, gymnasium mats and various household goods and by a large desk, strapped to the rear of the load.

"What have you there?" inquired Sheriff Stevens when he caught up with the truck after an exciting run from Lewiston.

"Furniture," was the reply.

"Furniture, nothing!" exclaimed the sheriff. "That's booze. I can smell it."

He then arrested the two men, accompanying the truck, who gave their names as Francis R. Downey of Roxbury, Mass., and Frank J. Gleason of Boston, on the charge of illegal possession and illegal transportation, and took them to Auburn jail with the truck and its contents.

termites of which deceased was a member including:

Lowell 1235, Order of Owls; Canton Pawtucket No. 2, I. O. O. F.; the D. P. O. Elks, No. 87; Highland Veritas lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F.; S. H. Hines lodge, K. of P., Pilgrim encampment, No. 4, I. O. O. F.; Passaconaway tribe, Improved Order of Red Men and the Centralville Rebekahs.

Burial took place in the family lot in the Edison cemetery where Rev. Dr. Whitaker again spoke words of Christian comfort to the bereaved relatives and read the committal prayers, "Abide With Me," then sung by Mr. and Mrs. There was a profusion of floral offerings, among them being pieces by the following: wife and son of the deceased, brother and sister, Lowell police department, Lowell lodge, No. 57, B. P. O. Elks, Mr. Edward M. Powers, Centralville Rebekahs, Mrs. and Mrs. George E. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Merrill, Passaconaway tribe, Red Men, Queen City, K. of P. of Manchester, N. H., Mr. Walter Holland, the I. O. O. F., Louise Bernier, J. M. Kingsbury, a friend, Mr. and Mrs. George Robeson and John Robeson, Mr. A. P. Hall, Mrs. Maria Fox, Mr. Frank Batchelder, Mrs. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. George Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abare and the Earnest family, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Howard of Belmont, N. H.

FUNERAL NOTICE

CAVANAUGH—The funeral of the late Bartholomew Cavanaugh will take place Friday morning from his home, 125 Lincoln street at 8 o'clock. Solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. Michael's church at 2 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker C. H. Melloy in charge.

Mrs. Laura, wife of Dr. Theophilus Laura of Middlesex street and her four children, left yesterday for Canada, where she will spend the summer months, visiting relatives in Montreal and Cacouna, Que.

Colonel and Sons on Vacation

NEW YORK, July 10.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt started on his outing to Arizona. He left with his sons, Archie and Quentin, for the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and said he would forget all about politics, both local, state and national. The former president is not expected to return for the fall campaign, for he said he would stay in New York only a week when he came back from Arizona and then would go on his Argentine trip.

Steamer Morran Ashore

WOODS HOLE, July 10.—The revenue cutter Acushnet was called out last night to the assistance of the fishing steamer Morran which was ashore on Sow and Digs reef in Nantucket Sound. The steamer was hoisted by the Acushnet at a late hour, in a leaking condition but "under control" according to a wireless message from the revenue cutter.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fournier of Chelmsford street.

Dentist Will be Called to Testify

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 10.—The discovery of marks on the body of Alice Crispell, believed to be inflicted by a man's teeth, has resulted in the postponement of the inquest which was scheduled to be held yesterday afternoon.

The inquest will probably be conducted by Coroner James Marley tomorrow morning at the Onondaga hotel, which faces Harvey's lake, where the body of the girl was found on Monday.

The imprints supposed to have been made by teeth are on the right hand and right arm of the dead girl. The imprints which the authorities are expected to take are of the teeth of Herbert Johns, the girl's suitor, now under arrest.

District Attorney John H. Bigelow abandoned his intention to put Johns through a "third degree" as the result of the finding of the supposed teeth marks. Bigelow wants to establish first of all that the marks could not have been inflicted by anything other than teeth.

Coroner Marley has carefully refrained from expressing a view as to whether or not the girl was murdered. He stated today, however, that he could find no possible motive for murder. He said:

"There is absolutely no indication of anyone wanting to put the girl out of the way." We made a thorough examination and found nothing. In our deduction we are substantiated by the statements of the dead girl's mother. There are bruises that look like teeth marks, although the wounds could have been inflicted by a jagged rock or by falling."

Every step in the investigation now hinges on the marks found on the girl's body, both Coroner Marley and Dr. P. J. Higgins, who performed the autopsy, declared.

DYNAMITERS RELEASED

Young and Wachmeister Leave Leavenworth

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 10.—Michael J. Young of Boston and Charles Wachmeister of Detroit, two of the men convicted at the dynamite conspiracy trial at Indianapolis, were released from the United States penitentiary here yesterday when notice was received from Chicago that their bonds had been approved. The two men left at once for their homes.

Only 10 of the 32 men brought here from Indianapolis, Jan. 1, now remain in prison. The government holds $740,000 in bonds given for the men who have been released.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Desjardis of Rock street.

Big Fire at Plum Island Wrecked Bridge

NEWBURYPORT, July 10.—Five hundred residents of this city were isolated on Plum Island last night when a fire destroyed the Essex county highway bridge over the Plum island river. There is no means of communication with the mainland, except by small boats and hotel accommodations on the islands are decidedly limited. At a late hour most of the stranded ones were wandering on the marshes along the river looking for boats which would get them across. Cottagers took care of some people but there was not shelter enough for all. A fire in the late afternoon which burned two stores and a cottage on the island attracted many Newburyport people to the scene. In trolley cars and a large number of them were still on the island when the bridge fire started. Trolley service was suspended and telephone communication interrupted.

Federal Authorities Burn Up 23,616 Cans

BOSTON, July 10.—Alaskan salmon, contained in 23,616 cans packed in 954 wooden cases, valued at $3000, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon at the Commonwealth flats, South Boston, because it was below the pure food standard.

The salmon was seized two months ago while in the possession of a Boston dealer, to whom it had been shipped from Alaska. The Alaskan company claimed it was in perfect condition when shipped, but had been dumped into the water when the dock from which it was to be shipped collapsed. The United States authorities declared it was adulterated and contained decomposed matter.

The destruction of the salmon yesterday was under the direction of Deputy United States Marshal Charles A. Bancroft and Bailiff Chester Trask. Such an unusual bonfire attracted a crowd and the ever present motion picture machine was there to reproduce the scene for theatre-goers.

The boxes were piled high on excelsior in a large circle and then a man poured several gallons of oil over the whole. As soon as a match was touched to it the flames leaped high in the air, sometimes up to 100 feet.

Cardinals Buy Players

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., July 10.—Pitcher Niekhaus and Shortstop Callahan of the local South Michigan league team were sold yesterday to the St. Louis National league club. The price announced was $5000. They will report at the close of the South Michigan league season.

Re-elected President

position as assistant state secretary and Patrick Mahoney, also of Lowell, was elected in his stead. W. C. Talon of New Bedford was chosen as secretary and the treasurer's office was filled by the selection of Walter Leasure of Lawrence.

A banquet was served in the high school hall and proved a very enjoyable event. Mayor Scanlon of Lawrence was among the principal speakers during the convention, complimenting the janitors' association on

MEETING IS POSTPONED TITANIC SUIT IS FILED

Council Will Meet Tomorrow—Other Notes

BOSTON, July 10.—A suit for $50,000 against the Oceanic Steam Navigation company for the loss of the life of Phillippe Wiseman on the steamship Titanic April 15, 1912, was brought in the superior court, yesterday, by his widow, Mrs. Marie Wiseman of Quebec, for the benefit of herself and six children.

The plaintiff alleges negligence in providing lifeboats, life rafts and other means of life preservation; failing to equip its lookouts and watchmen with night glasses, so they were unable to see the lechery, which the steamship struck, in time to prevent the collision, and failing to furnish sufficient trained employees to man the lifeboats.

She alleges the officers failed to take the precaution of reducing the speed of the steamship and increasing the number of lookouts and watchmen, although having knowledge that the steamship was in or near the "iceberg zone," which was a definite locality according to the season of the year.

The declaration sets out that Bruce Ismay, manager-director of the Under a statute known as Lord Campbell's act, the plaintiff claims the right to sue for the negligence of the steamship line, was on board and financially, if not nominally, in charge. She says the defendant through him and its officers had been warned by wireless messages from other vessels of large icebergs in the path of the ship and it failed to decrease the speed to a point of safety.

Violation of Chinese Act
BOSTON, July 10.—Charged with violation of the Chinese exclusion act that two of his crew of Chinese were ashore and failed to return, Capt. Lockhart-Muir, commander of the British steamer Albatross, was held in der $100 bonds for the fall term of the grand jury by U. S. Commissioner Hayes yesterday. The court overruled the captain's claim that the Chinese members of his crew were British subjects inasmuch as their homes were in Hong Kong and Singapore, both British possessions.

Mrs. X.: The wrinkles and lines on your skin are probably caused by extreme dryness. Here is a preparation which you can make not only restores the softness and natural color to the skin. Grind a ounce of almond oil at the drug store and dissolve in ½ pint cold water, adding two to three drops glycerine. Apply before retiring and leave over night. This will remove wrinkles, prevent crow's feet and make your face soft and satiny. It clears and whitens the skin, too.

Get rid of it by applying, twice a week, a simple preparation made by mixing one ounce of quinine with one pint of alcohol and ¼ pint of water. This is a natural tonic to which may be added the oils of lemon and orange to tell me they owe fine growths of hair to it.

PRES. MELLON'S RESIGNATION

President Mellon's resignation from the presidency of the Boston and Maine road, while not altogether unexpected, is especially significant, coming as it did on the eve of the publication of the Interstate Commerce Commission findings which in their disclosures were in the main condemnatory of his policies, and opposed to him in his recommendations. No one can definitely say at this time that there was any direct connection between the Interstate Commerce report and the resignation, but the public regards the connection rather close to be a mere coincidence. While there are many other conjectures as to the underlying motives of President Mellon's action, it is safe to say that in a broad sense it is the direct result of the general public condemnation which has attended his avowed policies since the merger of the New Haven and Boston and Maine railroads took effect.

Looking on the charge in its relation to local railroad development it promises to work for good. Both roads are sufficiently important—and we might add with propriety, sufficiently unsatisfactory at present—to warrant the undivided attention of men with broad and constructive policies, and the problems of the two roads are entirely different and call for different management. Following the recommendation of the Interstate Commerce Commission the New Haven might advantageously give up its impracticable dream of expansion until it is in better financial condition, and the Boston and Maine has a great problem in bringing all its departments up to the standard of modern adequate efficiency. President Mellon made the glaring mistake of wasting resources in a multiplicity of enterprises, and in his dream of a great future solidification of the widely diverging interests of the New Haven, the Boston and Maine railroad was allowed to deteriorate. Both railroads must now face a period of reconstruction if they are to be again established on a paying basis, giving adequate returns for the money invested, and reinstated in the public confidence.

The failure of President Mellon to combine large collateral interests under one management will serve as a warning to all the railroads of this country that combinations and mergers entail an enormous responsibility and are fraught with grave danger. This is particularly true when the combining roads are not fully successful as units at the time of the amalgamation. It will also serve to show that it is bad policy to evade the letter or spirit of the law as the public cannot countenance shady manipulations indefinitely and when public sentiment begins to condemn, the end is in sight. Railroadings is public business, and the people should be allowed to see its inner workings. If there is any reason for concealment so much the worse for the railroads. If this lesson has been learned by the directors of the New Haven and Boston and Maine, we may hope for a speedy improvement in the railroad situation of New England.

CONCERNING THE NEW HAVEN

The Interstate Commerce Commission has made an exhaustive inquiry into the affairs of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, the results of which have been just made public in an exhaustively analytical report. Besides laying bare the unwise activities which have brought the road and its subsidiaries into serious popular disfavor, it outlines the constructive policies which should be followed if the line in question are to regain their former efficiency and prestige.

Briefly summing up the main points of the report, it states that the New Haven railroad has brought on injurious public criticism by disregard of willful evasion of the law both in spirit and letter. It has shown a desire for unwarranted and unwise expansion in the acquisition of trolley and steamship lines—wasting millions in some of its transactions. It has made unnecessary campaign contributions and wasted financial resources by unscientific methods of keeping accounts. Its passenger rates compare favorably in the main with those of other railroads, but its freight service is in need of improvement. In striving to obtain a monopoly on the New England railroad service it has destroyed competition and must be placed under strict government control.

Although the suggestions of the commission are not mandatory, they are in accordance with the feelings of the public and point out the remedy for the present satisfactory situation. They urge upon the railroad the necessity for divesting itself of trolley and water lines, and the strict adherence to the proper business of railroading. They also advise the meeting of adverse criticism by a compliance with the law. They urge a constructive policy in building up the physical properties of the New Haven and its subsidiaries, and improvements in the freight and passenger rates.

Although this was reckless extravagance in New Haven expenditures—especially in securing the trolley lines, in one of which over $13,000,000 was lost—the road is still solvent, and it can be again put on a sound financial footing by giving up its pernicious policy of wasteful expansion and attending to a general upbuilding and improvement of the service.

A few days ago a group of Polish immigrants who made a temporary stay here en route for New Hampshire points gave information to an interpreter, who in turn discussed it with a Sun reporter, which would indicate that these immigrants were brought here either in violation of the alien contract law or as victims of the padrone system. Some of them were going to a sawmill owned by one of their race who had written to Russia, asking them to come here, and others claimed to have been sent for by representatives of various mills who had assured them that their railroad fare would be partly paid by the officials of the mills in which they were promised employment.

Owing to the fact that they were not destined to this city and because of their ignorance of American laws and American conditions in general, the Polish immigrants were unable to tell whether the inducement to come here was offered by the direct management of the mills or through private individuals. This is regrettable because it would be interesting to see if the violators of the law were organized in their defiance of government regulations or acting as individuals, taking the risk for the sake of the financial gain. In either case the offense is not slight, and the law provides a heavy penalty. After the revelations of recent years and the labor unrest due in great measure to the importation of cheap labor, those who offer inducements to foreigners to come here are guilty of a crime against society, the seriousness of which in full may still depend on the revelations of the future.

Most people felt assured after the great strikes in the New England industrial centers for the past few years that the management of the mills would see the danger of making representations to disgruntled foreigners which were impossible of fulfillment, and that such a course would be unknown for the future. Even though they should still desire to import labor it was felt that they would not dare to use the former methods. Violations of the alien contract law were considered a thing of the past. The padrone system does not die easily, but the history of recent cases of it in this part of the country shows that the authorities are fully alive to the danger of it and resolved to stamp it out, as the sentences imposed on those who offended were unusually heavy. The local instance of the Polish immigrants, however, forces us to the conclusion that violations of the law are still going on, and until there is a complete elimination of this serious offense we may expect a continuation of the unsatisfactory condition of labor in the mills of New England.

TARIFF AND SHOE TRADE

Among the industries which those who oppose tariff reform most persistently quote as illustrative of its ruinous effects is the shoe industry of New England and on the other hand in no industry of the country is the outlook brighter—if one may judge from the optimistic predictions of leading shoe manufacturers. One of the latest to found this hopeful note is A. W. Donovan, a manufacturer of Rockland who gives his views as to the effects of the tariff on the shoe industry in a special section of the Boston Herald of Wednesday which is devoted to a discussion of the shoe and leather industry of New England.

Mr. Donovan says that the removal of the present tariff on shoes will probably result in a greater importation of the English product, but that owing to the constant development of new ideas and the continual changes in shoe styles, no foreign manufacturer can compete with the American maker. He does not expect the shoe industry to offset the new tariff by any great gains in economy or efficiency as he avers that the shoe industry is now a generation ahead of many other lines of business. He also expects great things of the American shoe worker as he says: "No small part of the solution of the matter will be found in the aptitude of the American shoe worker to bring out the ideas of experts who are constantly devising new styles and new methods in shoes and leather."

The views of one expert are worth the platitudes of twenty theorists, and it is encouraging to those who are equally interested in the tariff reform and the welfare of our industries to find a prominent manufacturer so sanguine as to the future in this very important American industry. Still the statement of William L. Douglas is recalled that the shoe industry wanted only five hides to make it prosperous and enable it to reduce the price of shoes. The tariff was removed from hides but the Douglas prophecy as to lower prices was not fulfilled.

Seen and Heard

We have to go back to the reign of Edward III. and find the holder of the English hunger strike record, Cecilia, wife of John de Bygeway, was in 1357 confined in Nottingham jail on a charge of murdering her husband, and there, according to the old records, she abstained from meat and drink for 40 days. Which, being reported to the king, he was "moved by pity, and for the glory of God and the Blessed Virgin, to grant the woman a pardon." The records say nothing of her guilt or innocence, nor do they throw any light on fourteenth-century ideas of forcible feeding.—London Chronicle.

Gov. Earl Browder of Mississippi, recently happened in a town where a country club had just been organized. Consequently everybody was talking golf. The governor listened awhile and then smiled. "I am reminded," he explained, "of the experience of a friend of mine who is much better on conventional golf than the practical thing. "One day in struggling over the course he made one miserable play after another to the evident delight of his small caddy. Finally he tore up a piece of turf. "Just look at that!" he exclaimed, lifting the sod in his hand. "What in the world am I to do with it?" "If I were you, sir," advised the chuckling caddy, "I would take it up to the hotel to practice on."

That the youngster can follow the instructions of mother too literally was demonstrated by a story told by Admiral Signale.

Among the several things the maternal relative told him was that under no circumstances must he take a second piece of cake if it was offered to him. On the boy's return that night mother proceeded to question him relative to the glad time he had. Soon the examination led to the table. "I suppose, Willie," said mother, "that you remembered what I told you about the second piece of cake?" "You just bet I did!" enthusiastically replied Willie. "There was nothing doing when she asked me to have another helping." "I am very glad you refused, Willie," returned mother, with a pleased expression. "What did you say to her?" "What did I say to her?" was the startling rejoinder of Willie. "Why, I just says to her, 'Not on your life!'"

We know that eggs are almost indispensable for cooking, but they are just as valuable for other things as well.

CRAMPS, HEADACHE, BACKACHE,

Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"I was always tired and weak, and my household was a drag. I was irregular, had cramps so bad that I would have to lie down, also a distressed feeling in lower part of back, and headache. My abdomen was sore and I know I had organic inflammation."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier have helped me wonderfully. I don't have those pains any more and I am all right now. There are a great many women here who take your remedies and I have told others what they have done for me."—Mrs. CHAS. McKINNON, 1013 N. 5th St. W., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 30 years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. If you are sick and need such a medicine, why don't you try it?

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Native and Foreign

Fall River Globe: There was neither sense nor logic in the proposition to apply the literacy test in the matter of admitting immigrants to the United States. Approval of this is worthy of notice that according to the census of 1910, it appears that the percentage of illiteracy among the offspring of immigrants—that is, those of the second generation—in this country was 1.1 as compared with 17 per cent of those born of parents of native stock.

Have You Noticed It?

Brooklyn Times: An observant New York professor, studying the prevalence of automobile accidents, notices that no chauffeur ever runs down a traffic policeman. Pedestrians on all sides may be bowled over like ninepins, but the traffic cop, in his smart uniform bears a charmed life. There may be two reasons for his safety. Perhaps his uniform, making him more noticeable, permits the drivers to see and avoid him, that is the kinder explanation, and applies to the case of the better class of motorists. The other, harsh and positive, is that chauffeurs, even the most careless, are afraid of a policeman.

Reform Needed

Burlington Free Press: How about a reform of men's wearing apparel? If something must be worn as well as a coat and yet not roast the wearer and something else that would ornament the throat as beautifully as a collar and yet not wilt could be invented, we would all forego a few reforms of mere politics. Perhaps it is really to accomplish this end that the present movement is being pushed during the dog-days.

The Movies

Lynn Telegram: Perhaps no one thing of recent years has made such rapid strides forward as the moving picture enterprise and the numerous conventions connected with it for its betterment. The future of the business is very rosy and there is no reason to believe that it will not play a more important part in the world than it does at present.

Idle Time

Brooklyn Times: One of the clerks in the government pension bureau was recently summoned for kissing a girl employe of the department while on duty. The penalty really should fall on the government for giving its young men so much dangerous idle time during office hours.

Greek Emigration

Portland Express: The Greeks have come to fill a considerable place in the urban population of the United States. Many of them have one very well in business, but the anxiety of the government to keep its sons at home can well be understood. With the expulsion of the old enemy, the Turk, from Europe, the Balkan peninsula will at last have a chance to develop, and each of the allied states is striving for its share of the development. The Greek people always have been inclined to string out along the sea coast, many of them under a foreign flag. The new policy will be to concentrate them for the strengthening of the state.

The Silver Lining

Springfield Union: Every cloud is said to have its silver lining, even the white clouds that have floated in the hot skies the last few days. The hot weather is making the corn grow, and New England's succulent green corn is not to be despised.

The Tramp

Nashua Telegraph: The suggestion of practical measures of social betterment is infinitely to be preferred to vague appeals of rhetorical uplift and warning. The tramp is not the object of concern but he is an important one and it is no credit to this progressive country that he has been so well as well to a prodigious nuisance and menace. Few years ago the tramp was a creature of pity, fear and intelligent provision for his removal.

Smallpox Situation

Agent Bates of the board of health stated today that there was no change in the smallpox situation. The patients at the hospital are doing well and it is expected that most of them will be discharged in a few days. Dr. McAvannus is still keeping up his search for new cases, but he is convinced that at present there are none. The fact that the schools are closed makes his work more difficult. The patients quarantined at the French-American hospital are also doing well and it is confidently hoped there will be no more new cases.

No Clerk Exams in 1913

The U. S. civil service commission announced that the clerk-carrier examination for the Lowell postoffice, scheduled to be held annually in November, will be omitted for 1913, owing to the large number of eligibles on existing registers. Application for the next examination should not be made until July 1, 1914.

NOTICE OF HEARINGS

Ordered by the Municipal Council that a public hearing be held at their room, City Hall, Tuesday evening, July 15th, at 8 o'clock, to ascertain whether or not the City of Lowell should contract to delay one-fourth of the total expense of widening Lawrence street and constructing a bridge over the Merrimack Canal.

Also at the same time and place that a public hearing be held on petition of Omer Ducharme and others, that certain land in Centralville be purchased by the City of Lowell for a park or playground.

WOMAN GROUND TO DEATH

Threw Herself in Front of Locomotive

BOSTON, July 10.—An unidentified woman, apparently about 37 years old, clothed in a white shirt waist and skirt and wearing a wedding ring, cast herself in front of the local train bound for Mansfield last night at a point near the Walpole street ball grounds in Roxbury, and received injuries from which she soon died. The woman was crushed between the two forward trucks of the heavy locomotive, the tragedy happening at 6.30 p. m. Whether the woman became confused walking among the tracks, or intended to commit suicide, is not known.

When the engineer, who was not held by the police, saw the woman on the track in front of his locomotive, he threw on the air and emergency brakes, but was unable to stop the train in time to save her life.

The woman was picked up unconscious by the train hands and taken to the Back Bay station and from there to the City Hospital. It was found that she had died on the way.

According to witnesses, the woman was walking on the tracks and stepped aside for at least two trains before she got in front of the one that took her life. Engineer Palmer said that he did not think the woman was going to step in front of his train when he first sighted her white-clad figure.

RACE ACROSS CONTINENT

Girl Weds Though Sent to San Diego

BROCKTON, July 10.—Neither distance nor parents who would otherwise could prevent the marriage of James F. Buckley, son of a wealthy shoe manufacturer of this city, to Miss Helen P. Garfield, also of this city, who had been sent to San Diego, Cal., to keep her away from young Buckley.

The marriage of Buckley and Miss Garfield came at the conclusion of a trans-continental dash made by Buckley, who wired that he, unlike young Lochinvar, was coming out of the East and to have the marriage licenses ready.

The young woman is the daughter of one of the best known families in this city. Parents on both sides objected to the match, and Miss Garfield was hurriedly sent to San Diego.

She had not been in that city long before a telegram came to young Buckley that caused him to catch the overland limited for the west.

Before Buckley reached San Diego two marriage licenses had been issued, so rapidly were things happening. The first was to Miss Garfield and a mysterious "Percy W. Wood," and the second, the next day, to Miss Garfield and the hurrying Mr. Buckley.

It was on June 28 that young Buckley started on his trans-continental dash for a bride. Yesterday word was received in Brockton that the newly wedded pair was en route for home and ready to be forgiven. At the Garfield home last night they had not heard of the wedding, would not discuss the matter and did not believe that such an event had taken place.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Actor Was Charged With Killing Policeman

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 10.—James S. Devlin, a vaudeville actor on trial, charged with murder in the first degree for killing Patrick Considine, a policeman, in May, was acquitted by a supreme court jury last night. Devlin saw his wife with Considine in the street and used language to her which the policeman resented. A quarrel resulted and Considine was shot and mortally wounded. The jury reached its verdict after three hours' deliberation. Devlin did not take the stand but his counsel tried to show great provocation through testimony that Considine had goaded the actor to the shooting by treating him brutally in the presence of Mrs. Devlin and then scornfully daring him to retaliate. As chief witness for her husband, Mrs. Devlin testified until her husband in desperation cried out that he wished he had a gun. Considine handed Devlin his pistol, the actor's wife declared, saying "Here's my gun; go ahead and shoot." A moment later a shot sounded and the policeman fell mortally wounded. Mrs. Devlin said she did not see who fired the shot.

COUNTRY'S GREAT CORN CROP

Dept. of Agriculture Issues Report Showing Acreage and Condition of Output

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The first idea of the size this year of the country's greatest crop—corn—was given yesterday when the department of agriculture issued its report showing the acreage, condition and estimate of the number of bushels of corn which condition reports indicate will be produced. More definite figures as to the size of the wheat crop, expected to be the second largest ever gathered, also were given, as well as the first idea of the size of the potato, tobacco and rice crops.

Details of the acreage, condition, on July 1, and the yield and total production, interpreted from condition reports, of the various crops follow:

Winter wheat: Area planted, 30,938,000 acres, compared with 26,571,000 acres last year. Condition, 75.6 per cent. of a normal, compared with 83.6 per cent. on June 1, 73.3 per cent. on July 1, last year, and 79.5 per cent. the 10-year average on July 1. Indicated yield 15.5 bushels per acre, compared with 15.1 bushels last year and 15.2 bushels, the average for the past five years. Estimated total production, 463,000,000 bushels, compared with 399,000,000 bushels last year, 400,000,000 bushels in 1911, 434,142,000 bushels in 1910 and 418,000,000 bushels in 1909.

Spring wheat: Area planted, 18,663,000 acres, compared with 19,243,000 acres last year. Condition, 73.8 per cent. of a normal, compared with 74.5 per cent. on June 1, 53.3 per cent. on July 1 last year and 51.9 per cent. the 10-year average on July 1. Indicated yield, 11.7 bushels per acre, compared with 12.2 bushels last year and 13.3 bushels, the average for the past five years. Estimated total production, 218,000,000 bushels, compared with 239,418,000 bushels last year, 190,682,000 bushels in 1911, 200,979,000 bushels in 1910, compared with 330,344,000 bushels last year, 150,682,000 bushels in 1911, 200,979,000 bushels in 1910 and 255,000,000 bushels in 1909.

All wheat: Area planted, 49,601,000 acres, compared with 45,814,000 acres last year. Condition, 75.6 per cent. of a normal, compared with 77.2 per cent. on June 1, 63.1 per cent. on July 1 last year and 61.9 per cent. the 10-year average on July 1. Indicated yield, 14.1 bushels per acre, compared with 14.1 bushels last year and 14.5 bushels, the average for the past five years. Estimated total production, 701,000,000 bushels, compared with 739,267,000 bushels last year, 653,000,000 bushels in 1911, 635,121,000 bushels in 1910 and 683,000,000 bushels in 1909.

The amount of wheat remaining on farms July 1 is estimated at about 35,313,000 bushels, compared with 23,576,000 bushels on July 1, 1912, and 34,671,000 bushels on July 1, 1911.

Corn: Area planted, 106,531,000 acres, compared with 107,033,000 acres last year. Condition, 76.9 per cent. of a normal, compared with 81.5 per

Repair Time's Ravages on Hair and Skin

(From American-Health Journal)

Shampoo either a dry, itchy scalp or an oily head of hair with the thick, soothing rather of this simple shampoo, which you can make at home by mixing a teaspoonful of castor oil with a cup of hot water. It will loosen every particle of dust and excessive oil, stimulate the hair roots to healthy action and restore the hair to its natural color while making it soft, glossy, fluffy and easy to do up. Nothing will so quickly restore faded hair to natural color after exposure to sun and winds.

For beautifying the complexion nothing equals this inexpensive, home-made lotion which, when applied to the skin, dries quickly and is invisible. It corrects complexion faults and gives the skin a velvety softness of texture and that much prized youthful glow. It is made by mixing four ounces of pure, 12 pint witch hazel for hot water, 1/2 pint of glycerine and 1/2 pint of rose water. It is especially good in removing pimples and blackheads and looks like part of the skin.

SWEEPING LOBBY PROBE

Authorized by House—Committee Named

WASHINGTON, July 10.—A lobby investigation of extraordinary scope was authorized by the house yesterday, to supplement the senate probe already under way. With the passage of the Henry investigation resolution, a special committee of seven members was immediately appointed by Speaker Clark, with Representative Garrett of Tennessee as chairman. The committee meets today to make plans for the institution of the probe at once.

While the house investigation was prompted largely by the allegations of Colonel M. M. Mulhall regarding the legislative activities of the National Association of Manufacturers, the resolution as finally passed so enlarged the scope of the inquiry that all efforts to control members of the house, or to influence legislation by any person or organization will be subject to the inquisitorial power of the committee.

The speaker appointed with Chairman Garrett, Representatives Cline of Indiana, Russell of Missouri, Rodenberg of Georgia, democrats; Willis of Ohio and Stafford of Wisconsin, republicans, and Representative Nolan of California, progressive.

TEWKSBURY

Mrs. A. L. King is visiting friends in Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fatten are sojourning at Hampton beach.

Mr. A. C. Tingley and family have returned from their vacation spent at Plum Island.

Miss Alice Duffey has returned to her home after completing a course of study in Halifax.

Mr. Alden Haines has purchased a new five passenger Red car and expects to start very soon with his family on a tour of the White Mountains.

A meat market has been opened opposite the "Busy Bee" in the south part of the town and is filling a long felt necessity as heretofore all provisions had to be carried from the center of town.

The new store will be much more convenient for the many people who while away their hours in the camps which are so plentiful in that section of the town.

Little Miss Helen Fatten is the proud possessor of a new bicycle which arrived last week. She has now joined the ranks of the campfire girls.

Mr. George Brown and Mr. William Jones are engaged in laying out new paths and walks in the cemetery, as well as trimming the old drives and improving the appearance of the grounds.

Dr. H. M. Larabee spent the week end with his family at South Portland, Me.

The farmers are all anxious for rain to save their crops, the last two showers passing around the town. Many of them are taking this time to give their hay but the crop does not give promise of being a very large one this year.

The pupils of the Tewksbury Central School held their annual outing at Bass Point Tuesday and a very enjoyable day was spent. The young ones, who were in the care of Supt. Watson, made the trip to the seashore in special electric cars. Sports of all descriptions were held and a good dinner was enjoyed.

GRAYS CAME STRONG FROM BEHIND

But Were One Run Shy—Whalers Take Batting Battle by Score of 11 to 10

In a game featured by heavy hitting New Bedford took the local team into camp yesterday afternoon at Spaulding park by the score of 11 to 10. New Bedford had to call upon their slubbers while Manager Gray was forced to beckon Zeiser from the mound in the fourth and send in Maybohm to stop John O'Brien's men.

Although poor baseball existed during the early part of the contest the game developed into such a spirited slugger that the small crowd present left the grounds perfectly satisfied. Lowell outbatted the visitors but many of the safeties were wasted. The features of the game were the batting of Cawley and the stellar work of Daly behind the bat. Cawley slugged the ball over left field fence in the eighth when two men occupied positions around the circuit.

First Inning
Sweat was passed but was out. Daly to Dee when he tried to purloin second. Miller played with Spires grounder but his fast throw to Halstein nipped the runner at first. Cargoe fled out to Clemens.

Crowley threw out Clemens to Kane. Cawley hit a fast one which Cargoe did well to knock down. DeGroot singled to center, advancing Cawley to second. Magee hit to Cargoe at short and DeGroot was retired. Cargoe to Crowley and Crowley threw to Kane at first, completing the double play.

Score—New Bedford 0, Lowell 0.

Second Inning
Griffith hit a grounder to Halstein who picked up the ball and slid to first base and several bases were heaved on to the diamond from the New Bedford bench when Empire White called Griffith out. Crowley fanned and Kennedy was out Cawley to Halstein. The Lowell third baseman making a beautiful stop and throw of Kennedy's hot grounder.

Halstein fled out to Kennedy in deep left field. Miller was thrown out at first by Spires. Daly was passed. Dee doubled to right field and Daly crossed the plate for the first score of the game. Yates threw out Zeiser at first.

Score—New Bedford 0, Lowell 1.

Third Inning
Kane walked. Kihullen popped one back of first which Miller fumbled. Maybohm ran to second. Clemens singled to centerfield scoring Maybohm. Cawley singled to left advancing Clemens to second. Cargoe made a fine running catch of DeGroot's Texas leaguer into left field catching Clemens off second for a double. Cargoe to Crowley. Magee fled to left where Kennedy collected the ball from the air.

Score—New Bedford 11, Lowell 2.

Fourth Inning
Only three men faced Maybohm in the sixth. Griffiths lifted a high one to Dee. Dee threw out Crowley at first. Kennedy was thrown out. Maybohm to Halstein. No runs.

Kennedy made two outouts in a row when Halstein and Miller sent flies into left field. Daly rolled one to

THREE VIEWS OF BOEHLING OF WASHINGTON, WHO IS THE SENSATION OF AMERICAN LEAGUE PITCHERS

The pitching sensation of the season is Joe Boehling of the Washington team. This young left-hander has shown that he is one of the best pitchers that has broken into the big leagues in some time. Right now he is leading all the twirlers in the junior baseball organization in games won with nine straight to his credit. Boehling is the only southpaw with the team. He had always been wild and was not considered much more than an experimental twirler until a month ago. However, Jack Ryan, the old-time backstop, and Nick Altrock, once a star southpaw slapper for the White Sox, continued to work with Boehling. Manager Griffith insisting that the youngster from the Virginia capital had the stuff. Suddenly he showed it. In that blistering heat of Cleveland recently the smiling slinger baffled the heavy hitting Napslanders through seven innings, losing control and strength in the heat after the team was leading by a wide margin. He showed his nerve by coming back at the Naps a week or so later and giving them five hits, winning 6 to 3 in handy fashion. When a green pitcher can lose control. All the bases and then force Larry Lajoie to hit at a bad one, shooting a high fly and closing the frame without a run, why, that kid has something. Boehling did this. With Johnson, Cashion, Groom and Boehling going well Manager Griffith believes his team will make a grand stand finish in the American league pennant race. Boehling, who is known as "Dixie" with Worcester, New England league, last season and in one game at Spaulding park forced "Rube" DeGroot to hit the air three times in the ninth inning. He was very popular in Lowell and his many friends wish him success.

Yates and was out at first. No runs.

Seventh Inning
Kane struck out. Kihullen fled out to Halstein in back of first base. Yates was out when he tempted Dee with a high fly into short left. No runs.

Dee opened the seventh with a two-bagger to the left field fence. Maybohm was out. Spires to Kane, when he sent a grounder to third base. Clemens hit a hard one which Crowley could not handle and Dee went to third. Cawley batted out his third hit of the game and Dee scored. Clemens going to third. DeGroot popped up an easy one to Spira but Magee singled to left scoring both Clemens and Cawley. Halstein fled out to Cargoe. Three runs.

Eighth Inning
Sweat was thrown out at first by Cawley. Spires hit the dust on three top balls. Miller threw out Cargoe at first. No runs.

Miller started off with a single to center. Daly doubled to left. Dee was sent to the bench when Cargoe made a nice stop and throw of his grounder. Maybohm ran to second. Clemens singled to centerfield scoring Maybohm. Cawley stepped up to the bat and sent the ball over the left field fence for a four bagger. DeGroot got a scratch infield hit when the pitcher batted and catcher let his pop fly. DeGroot then grounded to Crowley and DeGroot was forced out at second. Crowley to Cargoe. Four runs.

Ninth Inning
Griffith could do no better than lift a fly to Dee. Crowley singled to center but was left at first when Kennedy fled out to Miller and Kane was thrown out at first by Maybohm. No runs.

Halstein opened the ninth for Lowell with a sharp single to center. At this point Manager O'Brien of the Whalers sent in Yount, the old Lowell pitcher, to finish the game. Miller sent the pitcher's box and Yount threw to third, doubling up Halstein between second and third. On a very close decision the umpire called him out at second. Daly stole second but Dee was called out on strikes. The score:

All up, boys, for those three games at Spaulding park with Portland. Hugh Duffy will be here with his Maine team tomorrow and will take part in a double header Saturday.

Aubrey was a very lively person yesterday afternoon even if he is out of the game with a bad wheel. His coaching on the third base line was an inspiration to every batter who stepped up to the plate.

Cawley had the best day that he has had since entering the circuit. This boy was considered one of the fastest college infielders and showed speed in every department of the game yesterday.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Chic Cargoe's dog has changed his allegiance from Lawrence to New Bedford. The lively Boston Bull certainly made things hum around the visitors' bench yesterday when Sweat batted out that home run and the men on bases came home. He laid hold of Sweat's basely with his teeth and worried the New Bedford stockings up all his master picked him up bodily. Chick's dog is a well known character in every city on the circuit.

Well, no one can say that the Lowell team are quitters. With the score 11-3 against them and six innings played the locals went in and drove two pitchers from the mound and scored seven runs. That's the spirit which is bound to bring results in the long run.

Sweat's homer to left center in the third was one of the longest drives that has ever been made on the local grounds. The ball rolled to the fence and even the speedy Clemens could not get it back into the diamond in time to head off the batter at home.

Daly looked to be worth all of that $3500 and then some. His arm was in perfect shape and his brace of doubles was a very timely contribution.

Dee made up for his two misplays by his pair of two-baggers. Both hits resulted in a score. The diminutive infielder does not seem to have made himself at home in his new berth as yet.

Three hits in a row greeted Maybohm when he replaced Zeiser in the fourth. Crowley very kindly helped out the Lowell fielders by not touching 2d base and Umpire White counted him out amid a howl of protest from the New Bedford bench.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Glendales would like to arrange a game with the Crimsons or Centrals on July 13. Send all challenges to E. Mosher, 562 Middlesex street, or through this paper.

The North common will be the scene of a hard fought baseball game on Saturday between the Willows and the C. Y. M. L. team.

The Young Americans defeated the Riversides by the enormous score of 26 to 18 and would like to play them again and repeat the slaughter. The manager of the Young Americans said that the Riversides were the "punkiest bunch of ball tossers he put a team against" and that if they will play again, he will give them 20 scores to start just to make the game interesting.

Some of the fast Lawrence amateur clubs are looking for games with the Lowell amateur teams and complain that their challenges are not replied to. These Lawrence teams are notably fast and always put up a good game. Moreover, those we have seen are true sportsmen and it is a treat to observe their conduct in a game. The same may be said of the Lowell teams, also and that is all the more reason why they should be a friendly rivalry and more games between the teams from each city.

SULZER ATTACKS MAN

New York Executive Gives Detective Scare

ALBANY, July 10.—A man nearly 6 feet tall and weighing close to 150 pounds was yesterday backed up against a building on Eagle street, near Hudson avenue, by Gov. Sulzer and told he would be "thrashed within an inch of his life" if he didn't disappear from Albany immediately.

The man was one of three detectives who, according to the governor's friends have been shadowing Mr. Sulzer on his walks in and about the city during the past two weeks. The sleuths two pals, who were lurking in the distance when the governor turned on their companion, took to their heels and disappeared down a side street.

Gov. Sulzer was returning from luncheon when he noticed the tallest of the three men dodging his footsteps, 10 feet in the rear. He halted suddenly and switched about to face the man, who approached rather timorously.

"Did you want to see me?" asked the governor, clenching his fists.

Before the detective could stammer a reply the governor with a quick movement grabbed him by the throat and stood him up against a building, exclaiming as he did so: "I'm sick and tired of being followed by you and a lot of other detectives, and if you don't promise to leave Albany right away I'll thrash you within an inch of your life."

VIEW OF VARNUM PARK, SHOWING THE CENTRAL BRIDGE, PART OF THE MASSACHUSETTS MILLS AND THE NEW SUN BUILDING

Street Ry. Co. Would Straighten Lines —Its Future Possibilities and Possible Change of Location

The petition of the local street railway company to cut five feet off the apex of Varnum park has aroused a storm of protest from the people of Centralville as this is the only real park provided to appeal to their aesthetic susceptibilities. It is intended as a beauty spot not to be invaded by the steps of young or old, for it is so tightly locked up that the city employees when calling once every summer to cut the grass have to climb over the iron fence.

There is a piece of shrubbery of some kind in the centre but although it has been there for years, according to all accounts, it has thus far shown no sign of efflorescence.

The question might be asked, Why raise such a hullabaloo over cutting a slice off this little park anyhow? Ah, my friends, there is a reason and one that appeals very strongly to the people of Centralville and even more so to the people of Dracut because it was originally laid out, named and instituted so to speak in honor of the Varnums, who have seen the beginning of things in Dracut and who are still unwilling to be blotted from the map. If we are to judge from the opposition to the further dissection and disfigurement of Varnum park.

That park was originally laid out in the form of a "V" for Varnum and the park department for a time had the centre of it marked by a floral V made of tulips or other more lasting flowers. That custom, it seems, became too expensive and a central piece of shrubbery was substituted. The idea of Daniel H. Varnum, by whom and for whom the park was "founded," was that at some future day a statue of some member of the Varnum family, preferably one of himself, should adorn that park. Recently the Varnum school was presented historic paintings of General Varnum, and Sheriff Varnum of Middlesex county, the latter a man who also figured largely in state and government affairs. Varnum park with a statue of General Varnum would indeed be a greater attraction than it is today but as the general was a big man if his statue were erected in the centre of the park and if from any cause it were knocked from the pedestal, it would be quite likely to fall over the fence into the river, a tragedy that would become more probable if the park were further reduced in area through the demands of the street railway company.

The park from First street to the Merrimack river abuts a public landing and no doubt the people of Centralville in their solicitude for this park look forward to the time when the river will be navigable and when they can assemble on this park and watch the steamers come in from New York and Boston.

There are people in Centralville who would have this park held intact as the site of a future custom house to be occupied by one of the Varnums as collector of the port of Lowell. It is true that the collector, particularly if he happened to be flat footed, might need more space in which to turn around, but there is plenty of room skyward and if we are to rival Boston or New York we must have skyscrapers. The chief thing wonderful about Varnum park is how the city ever managed to get even 70 feet of the river bank away from the Locks and Canals Company, whose "riparian rights," surreptitiously secured from the legislature when Lowell was in swaddling clothes, are still maintained to the detriment of the community but to the great financial profit of the conglomerate land and water grabbing corporation.

While we are waiting for the custom house, the park might be beautified by the electric fountain suggested by Mrs. Frye, the beautiful iridescent luminosity of which would make the park a real central attraction.

Varnum park has a frontage of 70 feet on the river, 36 feet on Bridge street and 44 feet on First street. If we are to exclude the boulevard, it is the only river front park in the city. It has an area of 118 square yards, so that in justice, we may say the size is limited. There was a dispute among residents of Centralville as to whether it formed an isosceles or a right-angled triangle and it required City Engineer Kearney with his theodolite to decide the question with mathematical precision. He discovered that the park instead of being "V" shaped, or triangular in reality a quadrilateral of irregular outline. Should the petition of the street railway be granted, the curved base would be somewhat straightened while the centre would then be moved nearer to the river, but as the park is held inaccessible to the public and maintained only as an ornament the street railway company claims that by thus straightening the boundary line of the park, it will be more in harmony with the character of the Varnum family, none of whom were known as "crooked." The railroad company, we understand, has in view a great many improvements of this kind.

But the people of Centralville are still obtuse and they would rather have the park moved to a different locality than have one end of it lopped off to accommodate the street railway company. It is said they have consulted Jim Hickey, the building mover, who after looking the park over, expressed the opinion that he could float it down the river to Indian orchard, or move it out to the Dracut line and place it in some back yard where the street railway company couldn't touch it.

FIRE IN LUMBER YARD

Caused Loss of $20,000 in Boston

BOSTON, July 10.—A two-alarm fire yesterday which started from sparks from a hoisting engine on the Suffolk Coal company wharf on Border street, East Boston, brought the two fire boats and the East Boston apparatus and an engine from Chelsea which quickly got the fire under control.

The fire started in the lumber yard of P. S. Huclins company, 184 Border street, and spread through several piles of hard pine lumber and gained such headway that a second alarm was sounded.

The blaze was discovered by several of the employees of the lumber company and had apparently started in a pile of boards at one end of the yard and quickly jumped to the "piles" of heavy lumber. The heaviest loss by the fire is the Huclins company, which figures their loss at $20,000.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

Has Begun to Investigate Industrial Conditions

AS AFFECTING WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Representative Achin of Lowell a Member of the Committee—Hearings to be Held

The special committee of the legislature of which Rep. Henry Achin, Jr., of Lowell, is a member, began its investigation of the employment of women and children in the commonwealth, having been authorized by the house of representatives. The committee organized yesterday and elected Grover C. Hoyt of the State House News service as secretary. It also arranged for a series of public hearings. The first hearing is to be held on Friday when it is hoped to have present Chief Johannes H. Waltman of the district police with several of his inspectors who will explain the existing laws regarding the employment of women and children as well as the penalty. This is an important hearing, for there is at present practically no authority in the state for the enforcement of the labor laws. The authority of the district police and state board of health has been transferred to the new board by the act providing for its institution.

1,323,199,508 STAMPS

Reserve Supply Ordered by Postmaster General

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Postoffice inspectors have just completed counting more than one billion postage stamps in the bureau of engraving and printing. In exact figures the number that passed under the hands of the busy officers was 1,323,199,508. The stamps have a face value of $30,452,121.73 and they constitute the reserve supply ordered some time ago by Postmaster General Burleson.

The inspectors descended on the bureau without warning with the intention of testing thoroughly the checking system employed between the department and the bureau. At the expiration of the eight days' work the officers discovered that the count tallied exactly with the department's record.

FITCHBURG TAX RATE UP

Increases 40 Cents Per $1000

FITCHBURG, July 10.—The tax rate for 1913, according to figures given out by the board of assessors last night, will be $20 per $1000 of property. The 1912 rate is the second highest the city has had, and is an increase of 40 cents over the rate of last year. The highest rate was in 1905.

An increase in the state tax amounting to some $14,425, an increase in the amount of sewage disposal bonds of $3000, the $12,500 municipal loan and an increase of some $16,500 in department appropriations are given as the reasons for the increase in the tax rate.

The records of the assessors show an increase of $1,347,500 in valuation of new real estate and improved property.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Mille

"The beauty detracting fuzzy growths on lip, chin or cheek quickly vanish when delatone is used. A paste sufficient to cover the objectionable hairs is made with powdered delatone and water. This paste should be left on for about two minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed to remove the remaining delatone. A single treatment takes with it every trace of hair or fuzz and leaves the skin free from spot or blemish."

A wonderfully soothing and cooling lotion for the hot period can be made at home for a trifle by dissolving an original package mayatone in one-half pint witch hazel. This applied to the face, neck and arms then gently massaged in gives to the skin a wholesome purity impossible to attain with powder or greasy creams. The mayatone lotion will improve the finest complexion. It dispels the "olky," shiny appearance and is especially pleasing to use for freckles or tan. One application will last an entire day and the lotion blends so nicely with the skin that it is not noticeable to the closest observer."

WILL RAILROAD MEN PARALYZE TRAFFIC? FACTS AND COMMENTS

There was a large attendance at the session and Hon. Grover Hill of New York spoke on "Temperance and Success." Others who spoke were James Miskella, Thomas Keegan and Frank Groves. There was a concert program, smoker and social hour. The evening was most enjoyably spent.

The many Lowell friends of Joseph J. Murley, esq., of Boston, a former district deputy of the Knights of Columbus, will be pleased to learn that he has recently been appointed a judge of the East Boston district court by Gov. Foss. Judge Murley is very well known and very favorably known in Lowell among the members of Lowell council 75, Knights of Columbus, who have a high regard for his ability. He served in the legislature with ex-Mayor John F. Mehan and Martin F. Conley.

Lowell lodge of Elks has invited Lieut. Governor Walsh to be its guest at its annual outing to be held at Nabbaretts grove on Thursday, August 7.

Chairman William Scott, of the committee on sports is arranging an exceptionally strong and well varied program of sports. Since the swimming races were held on the Merrimack on July 4th there has arisen an interest in this form of sport and Mr. Scott is arranging for a swimming match for the championship of the city. William Wood who beat Cecil Dodge for the short distance running championship of Lowell, at last year's outing, has a new competitor in the person of Leo McCarthy, the Boston college crack and a match race (amateur class) between these two speed artists will be a feature of the sports.

BIG CAMBRIDGE OUTING

About 500 Motored to Billerica

Approximately 500 business men, members of the Cambridge board of Trade, North Cambridge Business Men's association, Inman Square Business Men's association, and the Russell Improvement association motored to Riverhurst on the Concord river and enjoyed an outing that was a brilliant success in every particular. There were more than 190 automobiles in the procession, which was led by P. W. Norris, the chief marshal. The board of trade of Cambridge was the starter of the affair and the other organizations eagerly interested themselves when the matter was proposed to them. Mayor Barry was present and was one of the stellar performers in a baseball game which was played. In the game he injured his ankle and will be obliged to walk with the aid of a cane for some time. Numerous other varieties of sports were enjoyed and a fine spread was served. The following were the officers of the affair: C. Burnside Seagrave, chairman of the executive committee; W. H. Gray, secretary; Olmstead C. Francis, treasurer, and Dr. John E. Dwyer, chairman of the committee on sports.

COUNT HAYASHI DEAD

Was Leading Statesman of Japan

TOKIO, July 10.—Count Hayashi, one of the leading statesmen of Japan, died today at the age of 53, after a surgical operation rendered necessary by injuries he had sustained in a firecracker accident.

It was at one time minister for foreign affairs under Premier Saionji and in the last Saito cabinet which resigned in December, 1912, was minister of communications. He had had a long diplomatic career, having been minister to China and to Russia and ambassador at the Court of St. James, during which latter appointment, he was instrumental in bringing about the Anglo-Japanese alliance. He was a prolific author and had made a profound study of foreign politics and history.

VESSELS IN COLLISION

American Yacht and German Cruiser Damaged

KIEL, Germany, July 10.—The American steel yacht Cassandra, owned by George J. Whelan of New York, collided today with the German protected cruiser, the Albatross, which was somewhat damaged and returned to this port for repairs. Nobody on board was injured.

Mrs. Benedict's Queer Will

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 10.—The will of Mrs. Wynetta Davis Benedict, widow of Arthur L. Brady, whose marriage to James A. Benedict of Katonah was revealed after her death in an automobile accident last Thursday, was filed here yesterday. It leaves her estate to her six-year-old son, George Todd Brady, but revokes the bequest if the boy should come into the custody of her first husband's family after her death.

Brady shot his wife in June, 1910, and died a few days later.

Mrs. Corneilia Brady of Golden's Bridge asked Surrogate Sawyer yesterday to make her guardian of the boy. Mrs. Benedict's relatives will oppose the application. It is supposed that Mrs. Benedict's will is valid because of the provision of the law that the will of an unmarried woman is revoked by her marriage.

Nurses' Alumnae Association

The regular quarterly meeting of the Nurses' Alumnae association was held at St. John's hospital Saturday, July 5, at 3 p. m., with a large attendance.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Helen O'Rourke, and the program was transacted. The meeting adjourned at 5 p. m. A social hour followed, during which refreshments were served by the officers of the association.

The nurses will hold their annual sale on Sept. 29.

WILL RAILROAD MEN PARALYZE TRAFFIC? FACTS AND COMMENTS

There was a large attendance at the session and Hon. Grover Hill of New York spoke on "Temperance and Success." Others who spoke were James Miskella, Thomas Keegan and Frank Groves. There was a concert program, smoker and social hour. The evening was most enjoyably spent.

The many Lowell friends of Joseph J. Murley, esq., of Boston, a former district deputy of the Knights of Columbus, will be pleased to learn that he has recently been appointed a judge of the East Boston district court by Gov. Foss. Judge Murley is very well known and very favorably known in Lowell among the members of Lowell council 75, Knights of Columbus, who have a high regard for his ability. He served in the legislature with ex-Mayor John F. Mehan and Martin F. Conley.

MINNIE WELCOME ARRAIGNED

On Charge of Conducting White Slave Traffic Between Massachusetts and New Hampshire

BOSTON, July 10.—Minnie alias Florence Welcome, the 17-year-old girl who attempted to end her life by taking corrosive sublimate tablets at the police headquarters in Lowell, in this city yesterday charged with having induced young girls to leave their homes and travel from one state to another for alleged immoral purposes. It is understood that her journey between Massachusetts and New Hampshire have been closely watched by the federal authorities.

When the charge was read the girl burst into tears and she sobbed and cried during the entire time she was in the courtroom.

She was brought before United States Commissioner Hayes on a complaint sworn out by Special Agent Schmidt of the department of justice. The arrest of the girl was made by Deputy United States Marshal Bancroft and United States Bailiff Helms, who brought her from Lowell and charged her with a violation of the Mann white slave act.

Commissioner Hayes ordered her held for a hearing next week and in default of surety she was sent to the East Cambridge jail.

TRIAL FOR CORRUPTION

Justice Cohalan, of N. Y., Mixed With Witnesses at Philadelphia

ALBANY, N. Y., July 10.—Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, often called the "brains of Tammany Hall," was tried before the joint judiciary committee of the state legislature on charges of corruption.

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—Harry Dacey known by a score of aliases and said to be wanted for robberies committed in Stamford, Conn., Boston, New York, Chicago, London and other cities, who was arrested here on June 19 with $2000 worth of jewelry in his possession, made his escape from city hall yesterday after he had been given a further hearing in the police court on an upper floor of that building. Dacey is believed to have hidden behind the door of an ante-room and to have escaped notice until after the other prisoners had been taken back to their cells when he mixed with the crowd of witnesses and spectators and disappeared.

KILLED UNDER HIS CART

Driver Fell From Water Wagon Seat

BOSTON, July 10.—Timothy F. McCarthy, aged 40, married and living at 292 Highland street, Roxbury, was almost instantly killed at 2.30 yesterday afternoon. He fell from a high seat of the street watering cart he was driving on Faxon street while passing in front of No. 15. The wheels on one side of the wagon passed over his head.

Frank McFarland of 62 St. Alphonsus street, saw the man fall from the seat and ran toward him, but the wheels had gone over the driver's head before the horses could be brought to a standstill. McFarland called in Dr. Sullivan, who was followed a little later by Dr. Murphy of Tremont street. Before the police ambulance arrived both doctors had pronounced the man dead and the body was taken into the undertaking rooms at 1437 Tremont street. Inspector Dennessy began an investigation.

McCarthy was employed by a man named Cronin. He is survived by a wife, a girl aged 14 and two boys who are younger.
